This Is PRINCETON

... IN LINE OF DUTY

Princeton's Police at Work. "There is at least one significant difference between Princeton police, in both borough and township, and those in other places in which I've lived," said one Princetonian recently. "It's one of attitude — the personal interest which Princeton police take in helping residents whenever they can and the personal pride they have in the community in which they serve."

This matter of attitude is one which is also fully recognized by Borough Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan and Township Chief James B. Campbell Jr. They both stress the fact that their departments, in addition to handling the full load of usual (and unusual) police work, are "here to help people."

Most Princetonians know that both Borough and Township police cars run a never-ending patrol of their areas. But Princetonians probably don't know that the result of these marked-car patrols, which cover about 275,000 miles a year, is as effective in discouraging law infractions as it is in catching misdemeanors in the act of being committed. "A couple of years ago," says Chief McCrohan, "two men were arrested in a near-by town for breaking into a gas station. They freely admitted to it — and to a lot of others on all sides of Princeton. I asked them why they'd never hit a station in Princeton, and they said 'Every time we'd even stop at one for gas, a patrol car would go by'."

A similar left-handed tribute to Township patrols was re-

PROGRESS REPORT

The current issue of TOWN TOPICS has a circulation in excess of 15,000 copies — more than 1,200 over October, 1962. The 48 pages published today represent an eight-page increase over the corresponding issue a year ago.

cently paid by men nabbed in Princeton by Township detectives. The men were wanted for over a score of breaking and entering charges in communities near Princeton, but for none here. When asked by Chief Campbell and Detective Norman Servis why they didn't try to pull any jobs in the township or borough of Princeton, they gave the laconic answer: "Too damn many patrol cars."

Traffic and Tickets. Most Princetonians also know that Borough and Township police handle traffic (thousands of cars during a "normal" rush hour) and give out tickets (speeding and overtime parking, after all, are both clear-cut violations for which there is one simple, self-administered antidote: "Don't").

In addition, people should know that Princeton borough and township police are fully ready and able to handle any crises, from hoodlomanism to homicide, that may occur in the area. As one township policeman says: "There's no day-to-day monolony in this job. You have to be ready for any emergency anywhere at any time."

Princetonians may also be aware, if only vaguely, of the long extra hours which the 24 members of the borough force and the 19 members of the township department spend in investigation, in preparation of charges and appearance at court, at special police schools and in-service training (regular firearms instruction and practice is only one example).

All of these activities, performed as a routine by the two departments but essential to the well-being and safety of the citizens, are what Princetonians have come to expect from their police — and what many another community would rightly envy. Says one commuter: "Where I work they still refer to police as 'New York's Finest.' That's not only square talk, it also makes no sense. Princeton's police are much better than the so-called 'Finest' — and they don't need horses to prove it."

"They Want to Help." Another commuter, this one goes to Philadelphia daily, says, "In Philadelphia, nearly everyone thinks the self-styled 'elite' Park Guards are great policemen. Including the Park Guards themselves. Me, I think they're just uniformed people-haters on horseback. Mostly show, little go. But Princeton police are just the opposite... They want to help you."

It is in the realm of helpfulness and personal interest that the two Princeton police units are unique and probably insufficiently appreciated. A few docket entries based on actual occurrences, in which names and location have been changed to preserve anonymity, illustrate how these qualities work for the benefit of those with some sort of problem which they bring to the police station in Borough Hall or to Township headquarters on Route 206.

Let's start with a Friday afternoon.

And on Sunday:
8:02 a.m. Frederick T. Reynolds, 18 Euclid Drive, reports lost cat, male, white and orange, 6-months-old... At 8:06, found at neighbors'... Case closed.
10:13 a.m. Request from professor for required "good conduct" letter from police for travel to Argentina... Letter (one of about 100 per year) issued.
11:17 a.m. Request from Stanley Armentrout: Needs to buy pair of shoes today (Sunday) because leaving to enlist in Army at 6 a.m. tomorrow... Desk officer calls shoe-store owner... He will accommodate.

These cases, of course, are only a small sample of the unusual "service" calls which come to police headquarters in the course of a week. They also obviously do not include the many misdemeanor entries on the docket, but they do point up the fact that Princeton's police departments are indeed "here to help people."
They don't include a record of the number of small but potentially dangerous fires which police officers in the extinguisher-equipped patrol cars put out. As Chief McCrohan says: "Unlike police in larger cities, our men must be jacks-of-all-trades: investigators, patrolmen, firemen, desk officers, traffic directors, radar experts, even dog catchers."

But, despite the busy procedure of keeping Princeton and Princetonians safe, Borough and Township police still rate helpfulness high on their list of necessary qualities. One of a number of laudatory letters they have received illustrates this point.
Written by a highly-placed official in government whose young daughter was taken ill in Princeton, it reads in part: "The action your men took to help us is most certainly the finest exemplification of the traditional policeman's pledge to assist the distressed. Please accept my congratulations on having such fine officers under your command and extend to those concerned my sincere appreciation for the service rendered my daughter and me."
All Princeton policemen can take pride in letters such as this — and all Princetonians can take equal pride in their police.

HOW TO THROW YOUR WEIGHT AROUND: This is half—only half, mind you—of a girder, on its weigh, if you'll pardon the pun, to Forrestal where it will be incorporated into the new Accelerator building. It's a 41-ton girder, 143 feet long and eight feet, four inches high. At the moment, in this picture, it is rounding the turn onto Route 130 at Robbinsville. It started out in Trenton and traveled to Forrestal via Mercerville, Robbinsville, Route 130, the New Brunswick traffic circle, Route One to College Road, across Route One (with watchful State Police nearby) and there you are. (Robert Matthews Photo)

TOPICS Of the Town

MME. NHU SPEAKS

... And Next Week: Tito, Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, skillful saleswoman of the Diem regime in South Vietnam, gave a brief speech to a capacity audience in Alexander Hall on Tuesday evening. Mme. Nhu, who has been described as a kind of lady boss of bosses of an Oriental Cosa Nostra, followed up her speech with a 40-minute question-and-answer session.

Mme. Nhu, sister-in-law of South Vietnam president Ngo Dinh Diem, was invited here to speak by the Whig-Clio-sophic Society, undergraduate debating society which two weeks ago sponsored a talk by Mississippi Governor Ross Barnett. She was accompanied by her daughter, attractive, 18-year-old Le Thuy.

Approximately 30 Buddhists picketed her appearance here to call attention to their opposition towards many of her policies. Mme. Nhu, a convert to Catholicism, has frequently been accused of persecution of Buddhists in Vietnam, a charge which she denies.

Despite the indignities inflicted by the ruling family on their fellow monks in South Vietnam, those coming to Princeton from Freehold and Philadelphia injected a light touch with their picketing. Dressed in colorful saffron-robos, they bore placards asserting: "End the Brave NHU World" and "No Nhuis is Good News."

Mme. Nhu's speech was temporarily cancelled Tuesday morning because of a cold she had contracted. When she heard of Buddhist plans to protest, however, she quickly changed her mind because she felt that if she failed to appear it would look as if she were afraid of the Buddhists.

It also was reported on Tuesday that Josip Broz Tito, head of the Yugoslav Republic, and his wife plan to visit the University next Wednesday. Borough Mayor Henry F. Patterson said that he had received word from U.S. State Department chief of protocol Angier Biddle Duke of the proposed visit.

As one Princetonian said, upon learning of the Titos impending tour of the campus: "First Barnett, then Mme. Nhu, and now the Titos—the University seems to be fast becoming a kind of intellectual Disneyland."

PLENTY OF SIRENS

Fires, Fires, Fires. Setting a three-year record for a lot of fires in a short space of time, Princeton has concluded its celebration of Fire Prevention Week.

Four general alarms and three "stills" were answered by the firemen between 10 p.m. Wednesday and 3:52 a.m. this Wednesday. The two most spectacular were the barn-stable blaze that completely destroyed a newly-remodeled barn at Hunt Farm on Mercer Road, and a kitchen fire that damaged the King's Court enough to close the restaurant for several days.

Fire broke out at the Mercer Road farm of Ferdinand R. White about 9 a.m. Thursday, apparently in the boiler room of the barn, according to Fire Chief Samuel G. Davison. By the time Princeton's three fire companies arrived, the flames had destroyed much of the building and firemen occupied themselves with confining the blaze and keeping it from other out buildings and from the White home.

The flames were discovered by Mrs. Christine Miles and John Randolph, employees of the farm. The Whites were not home at the time. Mrs. White is vacationing in Europe.

King's Court's fire erupted during the dinner hour Saturday, and some of the customers took their plates with them and finished eating outside while firemen worked at the fire inside. The blaze broke out above the charcoal grill and damaged the entire kitchen. No one was injured.

In the third general alarm fire, flames spurted from the windows of a two room suite on the fifth floor of the University's Patton Hall around 10 p.m. Wednesday. The room had apparently been unoccupied since 5 p.m., and firemen said they thought the fire

Round-Up

Half a dozen sixth graders from the Witherspoon Street School will be on "Do You Know?" this Saturday at 12:30 CBS-TV, Channel 2. . . . Participants: Laurel Baird, Linda McCandless, Martha Stange, Charles Ashton and Robert Brungaber.

They will discuss "flight" as described in two books "A Bridle for Pegasus" and "Flight Today and Tomorrow." This is the second time Witherspoon School has been on TV. "Do You Know?" is a Q & A program based on these books already read by the participants.

A French TV crew put "The Princeton Story" on film last week for eventual showing in France, Belgium and Canada.

A documentary on the University which included Princeton's 34-0 football win over Pennsylvania.

Sideline conversation included something like this: "C'est le quatrieme down et neuf yards a gagner. Il faut que le team de Pennsylvania punt maintenant."

In a further effort to put an end to harassment by undergraduates who try to buy liquor by misrepresenting ages and names, Cousins Co. has recently installed a Regiscope, the first liquor store in town to do so. Regiscope takes a picture of any young-looking customer, who then has to sign a statement declaring that he is 21 years of age or older and allowed to purchase alcoholic beverages.

Last week's weather was beautiful, rainless and erratic.

A high of 83° on Monday and a low of 32° Sunday night reported by the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association.

Police are receiving many complaints, particularly from the Hodge Road-Cleveland Lane enclave, about leaves raked into gutters and roadway. Definitely shouldn't be done. Cause accidents. All leaves must be left between the sidewalk and the curb.

This Thursday, weather permitting, Witherspoon Street from Hulsish to Nassau will be closed to all traffic. . . . Going to be resurfaced with a sealer compound. . . . If there is time on Thursday, Chambers Street will get the same treatment.

On Monday, nearly $500 in cash, a kitchen clock and a clock radio were taken from the apartment of Mrs. Frank Hutter, 260 Nassau Street, corner of Pine Street. . . . Door to the apartment was pried open, police report.

Another incident on the police blotter reported four Trenton youths arrested by State Police after a 90-mile-an-hour chase in a stolen car on U.S. 1. . . . the car's owner was Thomas Brophy of 25 Gulick Road.

Princeton's Fire Department has cause to remember Fire Prevention Week in 1963 — three general alarms in less than three days marked it last week (see Topics of the Town). . . . other principal stories President Goheen's report on the University's continuing contributions to Human Rights for the Negro. . . . the Township Planning Board's consideration of traffic generated on Franklin Avenue by the new borough elementary school. . . . results of Tuesday night's referendum on the school.

A Princeton professor playing the Japanese on their home grounds in their own game is pictured in "People in the News," as is a prize-winning Princeton High School sophomore (pages 24-5). . . . Civil Rights draw comment in Mailbox (page 23) and in Question of the Week (page 21).

The Township political race is the subject of this week's "Why I Plan to Vote" series.

Eric G. Endersby of Province Line Road, who commutes daily to New York, speaks out for the Republicans. . . . Robert P. Von Verdo of The Great Road, manager of the University's Plasma Physics Laboratory, tells why the Democrats should be elected.

A re-evaluation of strength in the Ivy League, based on the eight teams' performances to date, accompanies a report on Princeton's 34-0 defeat of Pennsylvania. . . . Princeton High School is ready for its biggest game of the season on Saturday. . . . Springdale Golf Club has a six-time champion. . . . it's all in the sports pages (26-31).

McCart Theatre's formal opening and a review of "Hedda Gabler" features the theatre section, which also reports on upcoming dramatic, musical and ballet activity. . . . (pages 5 and 6). . . . a major Princeton research firm which began with a staff of two and now has more than 100 employees is observing its 25th anniversary (Business in Princeton, page 18).

Telestar II was featured in a program originating in the Seminary's Miller Chapel on Tuesday. . . . picture in News of the Churches, page 32. . . . Princeton Methodists plan a fund-raising drive and Hope-well Baptists have completed one. . . . Laymen will participate in services in various churches this Sunday.

News Of The THEATRES

SEASON OPENS
"Hedda Gabler" at McCar-ter. "The Distaff Side" is the title used by McCarter Theatre to link together the four plays chosen for presentation during the fall-winter season, and the first of these distaff plays, "Hedda Gabler," opened the series at a glittering premiere on Thursday night.
"Hedda Gabler" will be given its final performances this Thursday at 7:30 and this Friday and Saturday at 8:30. Tiekets are available at the box-office.

Ibsen's Hedda would probably be very much amused to find herself assigned to the distaff side, after all, spinning by the fireside is certainly the last activity in which she could possibly be interested. Ibsen drew, in the late 19th century, a Modern Woman, wearing bustle but smoking a cigarette, modern enough to want to break conventions but still sufficiently attached to her society to lack the courage to make genuine breaks.

We see Hedda as the bride of Tesman, a puttering scholar.
She is tense and unfulfilled.
(If only, one cannot help thinking, if only she could have found a nice little part-time job editing manuscripts for a history professor the whole play might not have had to take place.)

Into her life comes a man from her recent past, a dissolute who has reformed enough to write what Tesman regards as a great book. In her restlessness and boredom, her desire to influence other human souls and to have power over them, Hedda destroys this man, the woman who really loves him, and eventually herself.

The play, centered on and named for its leading woman character, does indeed pivot around that character and "Hedda" has historically been a ride to fame for great actresses. In the McCarter production, however, the play is the thing.

Anne Murray is a strong
"Hedda" but not a great one.
She looks the part superbly, with a fair, lovely, bony, arrogant Scandinavian face and ashen hair. She is a lady, in the 19th century sense and a strong-minded one in any century's sense. But she does not have the steel and tension, the electrifying spark that makes an audience shudder at Hedda, yet understand her at the same time.

Paradoxically, in this season, it is the men who star. Alan Downer of the University's English department has prepared a new translation of "Hedda" which brings Ibsen into colloquy with real life. Dr.
Downer has made honest dialogue, the kind that real people speak, without losing for a moment the "vine leaves in his hair" poetry of the Ibsen drama.

The other male star is Donald Moffat as "Tesman." What a superb craftsman this actor

DAY OF DAYS: Governor Hughes proclaimed October 10 as "McCarter Theatre Day," in recognition of the theatre's accomplishments as New Jersey's regional center for the performing arts. Onlookers at the ceremony are Prof. Francis R. B. Godolphin (seated), chairman of the faculty com-
director, Arthur W. Lithgow, and William W. Lockwood Jr., associate producer.

is! It is a genuine pleasure to sit in an audience and watch him at work, adroitly ad libbing a bit of smudge from Miss Murray's forehead, utilizing every trick an actor knows — the slight movement of an eyebrow, indecisive turnings of the head and above all the fussy "eh!" — to draw for us a detailed, believable portrait of the likeable almost-scholar.

Edward Grover, familiar in McCarter for his Antipholus of Ephesus in "Comedy of Errors" and his Helicon in "Caligula," is splendid as Mr.
Brack, the bachelor judge who likes to insinuate himself into his friends' households as the third side in a friendly little triangle. A big man, with somewhat melodramatic black mustaches, Mr. Grover is well-cast as a handsome, worldly lawyer who manipulates his friends to his own purpose.

In his direction of the Ibsen classic, a difficult work to present to the restless modern audience, Arthur Lithgow has used bits of stage business to hold attention for the duration of a play that moves with only deliberate speed by contemporary standards. He has, unfortunately, arranged a few scenes so that an actor's back is to the audience even when he is speaking, and this is often distracting, but the direction as a whole is smooth, and one is grateful to Mr. Lithgow for keeping things alive. Those familiar with "Hedda" may find the burning of the manuscript scene somewhat slack where it should be taut, but this can probably be traced to Miss Murray's interpretation of Hedda.

If you saw the television production of "Hedda Gabler" with Bergman earlier in the fall, you will find the McCar-ter offering better in almost every way, considered as a whole. The casting is more to the point — Mr. Grover is infinitely superior to TV's "Mr.
Brack", for example, and the lines come across in a much livelier fashion, probably because of Dr. Downer's translation.

Sets, lights and costumes have been well-done at McCar-ter. The set is a realistic one, with a parlor decorated to the last Victorian detail. Rich purples, dark reds and sombre
"Victorian" colors and gowns have been used for first-rate costumes. It is an admirable production and an auspicious beginning for 1963.

O'NEILL NEXT
In McCarter Series. A play described by one critic as "the author's chilling indictment of his own parents," will appear as the second offering in Mc-Carter Theatre's fall season of repertory. It is Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey into Night," scheduled to open next Thursday at 7:30 p.m.
In his autobiographical play, O'Neill not only indicts his parents, but draws a bitter portrait of himself and his older brother. "A shattering theatrical experience," is one critical verdict.

The entire cast of the 1963

Williamstown Playhouse production will give the O'Neill classic for McCarter audiences.
The play will be presented complete and uncut, under the direction of Tom Brennan.
Olympia Dukakis, winner of the 1963 Off-Broadway award for her work in "A Man's a Man," will be a member of the cast.

GEETARS A-COMIN' Jamboree at Midnight. They tell us at McCarter Theatre that Scruggs & Flatt are largely responsible for the resurgence of interest in bluegrass music, but whether this is said in commendation or condemnation is not made clear.
Anyhow, those who lean to the commendation side will be able to hear the pair this Saturday midnight in McCarter along with The Foggy Mountain Boys.

Scruggs has been called the fastest banjo-picker in the world, using an unusual three-finger style on five strings.
Flatt writes country and western songs and has, with Scruggs, recorded eight albums for Columbia. The two have also appeared in concert in Carnegie Hall, of all places.

The following Friday midnight, October 25, McCarter will hold a hootenanny featuring the New Lost City Ramblers, Bonnie Dobson and Tom Rush.
Tickets for both programs may be purchased at the McCarter office, or reserved by calling WA 1-8700.

its second season, is directed by Frederick Franklin, former maitre de ballet of the Ballet include a new production, "Con Amore," "Sylvia-Pas de Deux" starring Sonia Arova and Stevan Grebel, "Hommage au Ballet" and a "white ballet." Mrs. Lawrence Benson is in charge of tickets.

Mr. Franklin has been invited by the Ballet Society to discuss "Ballet Today" at 8 p.m. next Wednesday before students, parents and invited guests at the studio, 262 Alexander Street.

Born in 1914 in Liverpool, England, Mr. Franklin began dancing lessons at the age of six. He danced leading roles in the company formed by Alicia Markova and Anton Dolin, the Ballet Russe, Sadler's Wells Company and, with Mia Slavenska, formed the Slavenska-Franklin Ballet. He was named director of the National Ballet Company in 1962 after serving the American Ballet Theatre as artistic advisor.

"INDIA" IS NEXT

In Travel Film Series. A never-before-photographed orthodox Hindu wedding and a private interview with the Tibetan Dalai Lama are featured in the Kiwanis Club's next travel-adventure film.

Entitled "India, Land of the Spectacular," the 90-minute color film will be shown at 7:30 p.m. on October 22 at the Princeton Playhouse.

Photographed and narrated by Russ Potter, it provides the first comprehensive professional coverage of India since that country's independence in 1947. Among the highlights are ritual dances, city life in Bombay, Calcutta and Jaipur, farm life in Southern India and the cave-temples of Ajanta and Ellora.

Single admission tickets, at $1.50 for adults, $1 for students, are available at the Playhouse and the University Store.

TO PRESENT "TIGER"

At Pennington Playbarn. The Pennington Players will present "Tiger at the Gates" this weekend at the Playbarn. Performances will begin at 8:30 Friday and Saturday evenings.

The leading role of Hector in the Jean Giraudoux drama about the Trojan War will be played by Edward Yanowitz of New Brunswick. Other performers include Judith Neese, Rosemarie Arcieri, Walter Anderson, Penny Hoadley and Gary Ellis.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or by calling 466-0301. The Playbarn is located on West Franklin Avenue off Route 69.

PRINCE AND PLAYHOUSE

Lawrence of Arabia (now showing) is an account, in settings of superb natural beauty, of an odd little Britisher who, in World War I, developed an adoptive affection for Arabia and fought hard and well to free it from the Turks. The film representation of his adventures is much more than just the Middle East horse-opera (or, in this case, camel-opera) it might have been — it is a faithful and absorbing chronicle of Lawrence's daring-do on the vast sandpile of the Arabian desert.

One trite, three-letter word probably best describes the movie: BIG. The desert (really the central character of the film) is magnificent and endless; the movie, a $10 million piece of change, is also magnificent in many respects and including a 20-minute oasis stop for the audience.

The film-makers chartered a fleet of some 1,500 camels and horses, 5,000 spear-holders, and six stars: Alec Guinness, Anthony Quinn, Jack Hawkins, Jose Ferrer (Princeton '33), Claude Rains and Arthur Kennedy. Peter O'Toole plays Lawrence, an enigmatic bloke to everyone including himself, called everything from "one of the greatest beings alive in our time" by Winston Churchill to an erratic, masochistic, libidinous switch-hitter by detractors.

"Lawrence of Arabia" is no shoot-'em-up quickie filmed in Southern California. It's a vivid spectacle of a vividly spectacular place and time in history.

... WHAT IDIOT JUST BLEW THE FUSE? Julie Harris shows obvious fear of the unknown as she enters a room of Hill House in "The Haunting," now at the Garden.

GARDEN

The Haunting (through Tuesday) is a movie that has one simple, old-fashioned purpose: that of scaring you silly. Like most ghost stories on film, however, it can have only one of two possible effects on you: you'll think it's (a) scaring or (b) silly.

"Haunting" is adapted from Shirley Jackson's "The Haunting of Hill House," an ambivalent kind of essay on the su-

IT'S NEW To Us

THORNE'S
In New Location. Thorne Pharmacy isn't new to West Windsor, of course, having been just around the corner from its new location for several years.
But the new Thorne's is really something to see, with miles of aisles and more space than you ever thought a modern drug store could have. It's on the corner of the new "shopping center" — you can't miss it.

Inside are the reassuring old stand-bys you've associated with Thorne's for years: the Prak-t-Kal vaporizer whose prime season is just about to begin, nursery needs like Dryper panties and diaper pails, fine toiletries from Rubinstein, Revlon, Coty and Matchabelli.

But with space has come variety, and lots of things in the new Thorne's are fresh to the eye. Costume jewelry, for instance. Here's a collection of charming little pearl-headed bobbie pins for frisky young fly-away hair. Look at the giant gold chains to loop around your neck next time you wear black. You'll even find a quiet string of pearls.

For dressing or bath room, Thorne's has pastel accessories like tumblers, powder boxes and lipstick containers, and if pastel doesn't fit, there are tortoise-shell styles, too. And while you're outfitting the dressing table, look at the PRO brushes, alone or in sets with combs, for truly fine grooming.

We didn't expect to find Casco's automatic electric blanket here, but here it is. And we expected one or two scissors to fit a manicure case, but not the tremendous box filled with cutlery you probably never knew existed, like special shears for thick and normal hair; heavy-duty instruments for toe-nails and light-duty ones for embroidery. It's a fascinating collection, rather like something out of Ben Casey.

For those who communicate, Thorne's has stationery and the equipment to bring it alive: Parker pens and Papermates in style and price for writing love notes or paying the landlord.

Schrafft's, Russell Stover and Whitman will take care of your calorie count. There's a planting of candy corn, too, just in time for autumn and a ten-cent Devil or Skull candy-toy surprise.

Greeting cards are in full display in this spacious new store, and we had ten minutes of fun at the special rack of Hallowe'en cards. "I couldn't wait for Valentine's Day," and that kind of thing. Our favorite is the really witchy witch saying, "I wanted to get you a little Hallowe'en treat, but I'm overdrawn at the blood bank."

LUCAR HARDWARE
Down the Line. Flanking Thorne's at the other end of the row of four stores is Lucar Hardware, one of those all-encompassing family stores where a man can ponder the purchase of a power drill while his wife measures the cafe curtain rods and decides on brass or white. (Rods are Kirsch, so the decision is bound to be a good one, either way.)

While we're on the household side, let's examine some new, sleek-sided Revere copperware, a distinct change from

West Windsor!

The pleasant reaches of West Windsor Township occupy our attention in this week's essay on where to go and what to buy.

West Windsor used to be all farmland, but have you driven there lately? Developments and custom houses, new stores and research laboratories, but still enough of that rolling, green land to make country-style living.

In Princeton Junction on the road to Hightstown, directly across that road from The Building Center, and right next to Bohren's Moving & Storage, is a new little shopping center of four stores. All of them were busy with customers the day we paid our visit, which proves something about the real need that exists in any community for the neighborhood store.

Plenty of parking space, of course, nicely black-topped.

the classic copper-bottom pans you've bought for many years. The copper in these new saucepans and skillets, is hidden in the core and the outside is all stainless steel, gleaming and strong. A new design has taken over, giving a straight-sided contemporary silhouette to the Mr. Revere you've known for so many years.

Rubbermaid's complete line is on the Lucar shelves, right down the list from dish-drainers and waste-baskets to ice-cube trays and such specialties as sink divider mats for people with divided sinks. We found brooms and mops, and will find snowshovels, as time goes by.

Meanwhile, the men in the family have been examining all the tools on Lucar's racks. Stanley's hammers, saws and screw-drivers, eight kinds of planes, if you please, and a round file and a full case of every kind of drill you ever saw. We mentioned power tools, didn't we?

TWO CONCERTS SET

For Kraehenbuehl Works. The music of pianist-composer David Kraehenbuehl, composer-in-residence at the New School for Music Study, will be presented at 8 p.m. this Saturday in the school's recital hall at 353 Nassau Street. A repeat performance is scheduled for 4 p.m. on Sunday.

Blanche Porto, mezzo-soprano from New Haven, who has premiered several Kraehenbuehl compositions, will sing the first Princeton performance of his "Songs of Ariel" and "A Funeral Sermon."

The program includes four piano pieces, "Peter's Tunes," and "Ephemera" performed by Mr. Kraehenbuehl, "Celebrations," a duet with Elvina Trueman Pearce of the school faculty, and "A Concert of the Humors" played by the composer, Mrs. Pearce, Doris Martin and Richard Chromster.

Students who will play representative compositions by Mr. Kraehenbuehl for the piano are Maria Komoski, Barbara Shoemaker, Nan Karwan, Linda McCandless, Peter Kaufmann, Patrick Costello, Rich-and Leary, Leonard Kingsley at McCarter, opening Princeton University Concerts, Series II.

He will perform the American premieres of two works, the Suite by Dmitri Kabalevsky and the Sonata in C major by Benjamin Britten. The program also includes Beethoven's Suite No. 2 for solo cello and the Suite Italienne by Igor Stravinsky.

Mr. Rostropovich, the son and grandson of noted cellists, made his debut at 15 in the role of cellist, pianist and composer. Prokofiev, Miaskovsky and Shostakovich all played important roles in his musical life. He introduced to the public Prokofiev's Second Cello Concert and Shostakovich's Cello Concert. In addition to his extensive concert work, he teaches at the Moscow and Leningrad Conservatories, and often appears as accompanist for his wife, Galina Vishnevskaya, Bolshoi Opera soprano.

Tickets are on sale at the University store and, on the night of the concert, at the McCarter Theatre box office.

BREAM TO APPEAR

With Consort. Six of England's leading instrumentalists, gathered under the name of the Julian Bream Consort, will perform in McCarter Theatre on Tuesday, November 5, as part of the group's first American concert tour.

Established two years ago by the eminent British lutenist and guitarist, Julian Bream, the Consort specializes in Elizabethan music for various combinations of instruments and voice. Composers in the group's repertoire include Moreley, Byrd, Dowland and Rossiter.

In the ensemble are three of the world's foremost lutenists including Mr. Bream himself, Desmond Dupre and Robert Spencer.

Tickets, priced at $2 and $3 are on sale at the McCarter box office, or through the mail.

pernatural which jumps from horror to humor and back with agility. The movie version often gets a little out of breath trying to keep up with the quick doublebacks in mood, but it keeps gamely at it.

The story is one of those "two's company, three's a shroud" jobs set in an appropriately eerie house which only a Charles Addams could call home. (After all, no dues-paying ghost would be found dead in a pre-fab split-level.) Doors squeak-e-ek, chains clank along vacant, dark corridors, shrieks echo and reecho.

If you are endowed with a sufficiently low spookability-threshold, you'll find "Haunting" haunting. But, if you believe that the only spirits abroad in the night are distilled ones found in fifths or quarts, you'll find "Haunting" wanting.

PERIWIGS ON STAGE

To Present "Mr. Roberts." The Periwig Club of Lawrenceville School will present "Mr. Roberts" on November 9 and 10.

Peter Candler, manager of the Cape Cod Melody Tent At Hyannis Port, Mass., is directing the production. The comedy deals with the adventures of a World War II cargo ship.

Painters will respond to 300 colors in the Cook and Dunn swatch case, and to brushes, rollers, putties and rolls of contact wallpaper to match up with the paint you choose. Ever see Weldwood's wood trim tape? It's about an inch or so wide, a contact tape made in wood grain to go along table edges, or wherever you need a band of wood "stain."

In the electric department, Lucar has drop lights, sockets and extension cords — in fact, anything a home-owner needs for wiring or repairing. The same is true in the plumbing department.

Larger home requirements can be filled at Lucar, too. The hardware store carries storm- and-screens by Ideal and Air-master, weatherstripping, and Visqueen, the plastic storm protector you can batten down over that north window if you're a temporary tenant and don't want the investment of storm-and-screen.

GOURMET DELICATESSEN Cakes and Baloney. When we looked in the showcase at the Gourmet Delicatessen, we found 38 different cold meats, and what a sandwich that would make! (You may have take-out sandwiches, by the way, ranging in price from 30 cents for cheese or baloney, up to 65 for cold roast beef, on white rye or Vienna.)

Among the 38 is a hamstrami, whose slightly hybrid pedigree is obvious in its name, a close-textured meat loaf, tongue, ham and a five-inch-diameter German baloney which could probably drape gracefully over almost any slice of standard bread.

We liked the looks of "Pizza loaf," whose baloney-like matrix has sausages embedded in it to make a pattern of five little circles on every slice. The olive and cheese loaf is designed in four wedges — two of cheese facing each other and separated by two of meat loaf. Much too pretty to put in a sandwich.

All that may be party fare, but this one is everyday, and we mean "every" day: a frankfurter which is not only strung with its friends in that nice old-fashioned link way, but also made with a crisp casing so that it snaps if you break it in two. Not a twinge of rubberiness. The meat inside is MEAT, not pulp, and the flavor . . . !

Gourmet Del's bakery had, when we saw it, jelly-filled cookies and doughnuts, a chocolate cake and a lemon cake, apple or cherry turnovers and something irresistible called a Macaroon Crunch ring for 79 cents.

In addition to bakery and delicatessen, Gourmet has a frozen-food bin with Stouffer, Birds Eye and Sara Lee, an ice-cream freezer, if you'll pardon the double meaning, full of Lehigh Valley ice-cream, and several boxes of those Birn's chocolates, including turtles.

Because so many families count on a store like this for emergency buying, as well as for delicacies, we think you'll want to know about bread. In addition to the standard white-rye-Vienna loaves, Gourmet has, each Saturday, an egg-roll imported from distant Trenton. Get there early for your loaf!

WINDSOR TOY & HOBBY

Age Doesn't Matter. If you're very small, you'll find entertainment in cuddly plush puppy. If you're a bit older, there's Tiny Tears to rock to sleep. If you're that old, but a boy, there's a Hubley truck and power shovel to dig up the back yard. If you're mommie or daddy, there's a package of poker chips and a game called Scribbage, which you play with dice, adding up the words, like Scrabble.

The shop is Windsor Toy and Hobby, between the delicatessen and the hardware store. Need candles and a party cloth for a birthday party? Here they are. Or a mask for Halloween? We're scared pink or a bright green witch.

Hobbyists will want some of those HO accessories, and the Thunderjet 500 racing set for HO scale automobiles. Batteries abound, so you'll never be without juice.

If its put-together models you like, there's an old-fashioned water tower fire engine, a Viking ship and a white-tailed deer to piece together some rainy afternoon. The girls, meanwhile, are dressing Barbie (wigs for Barbie in Windsor Toy and Hobby).

In fact, while we were in the shop, a young lady with blond pigtails almost to the floor, came in and spent a whole dollar on a Barbie tennis outfit. You know women and clothes.

What we wanted to take home was a plush snake, all coiled to strike, with a key in his back. Curious to know what tune a snake would play, we wound it up, put our ear close to his back and heard, chiming softly and sweetly on a little music box inside, "Oh, she wore green pants . . ."

Cory S. Kammler

We heard a couple of short stories that may give you a chuckle, as they did us, but they're pretty corny, so if you can't use a naive chuckle read no further. Minister to little girl. "So God has sent you two more little sisters." Little girl: "Yes, and He knows where the money is coming from, too; Daddy said so." And then there is this quotation from H. L. Mencken, "A man may be a fool and not know it... but not if he is married." A more serious and so very true quotation from Ralph Waldo Emerson is this one: "It is one of the most beautiful compensations of this life that no man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself." We didn't realize it before, but Emerson said in a poetic way what we have always practiced: We know that only by pleasing you with economy and top satisfaction can we continue building our business. BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE: The Hunt Farm on Mercer Road lost a barn-stable but no horses in a spectacular fire Thursday morning. The animals were led to safety before flames ate into the stable's timbers. All three of Princeton's volunteer fire companies were at the scene. might have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

Patton was the scene of a second fire before dawn Wednesday, a storage room in the 50-year-old dormitory being gutted by flames of undetermined origin. Three undergraduates were treated at Princeton Hospital for smoke inhalation suffered before they were aroused from their sleep. The three fire companies were on the scene for an hour in response to the general alarm.

At 8:46 a.m. Tuesday, a short circuit in a lamp wire caused a fire at the home of Lillian Bingham, 22 Leigh Avenue. Furniture and flooring was damaged, but there were no injuries. On October 8, a fluorescent ceiling light at Allen's Children's Shop, 134 Nassau, caught fire and filled the store with smoke. There was no damage. The third and last "still" alarm was a brush fire.

GOHEEN SPEAKS

At Byrd Fund Event, Princeton University's rental office will no longer list rooms, apartments or houses where there is evidence that the owner has discriminated against tenants for reasons of race, color or faith.

Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of the University, told an audience of 1,100 persons at the Princeton Playhouse Sunday night that he had instructed the university's real estate office to put this order into effect.

The audience was gathered at the Playhouse for the showing of the film, "Gone Are The Days" for the benefit of the Elizabeth Taylor Byrd Memorial Fund. Money earned by the benefit — more than $1,800 — will assist Negro boys and girls who need help in order to further their education.

Dr. Goheen made his announcement in the course of an address preceding the film. He told the audience that he saw four ways in which Princeton University might advance the movement toward open and equal opportunities for Negroes in Princeton, and he named equality in housing as the first of these.

The second, Dr. Goheen stated, was employment. He said that some time ago, the University had opened its employment opportunities to everyone at all levels. In addition, he said that the University was now negotiating with building contractors "to help attain better opportunities in the several construction trades," and he added that negotiations would have to be made with labor unions also.

Workers Need Skills. He told the Playhouse audience that, because of economic pressures and "too low expectations in the family," Negro boys and girls frequently find it hard to acquire the complex skills necessary for jobs above the level of domestic work and unskilled labor.

"We in the University view as a serious sign of weakness in the community the fact that a high proportion of the Negro secretaries and Negro research technicians now employed by the University are not residents of Princeton," Dr. Goheen said.

Third, Dr. Goheen spoke of education. "The University's doors are open and we are making concerted efforts to attract more Negro applicants," he said.

"Progress in this direction has been slower than we would wish," Dr. Goheen said. "The annual pool of young Negroes who are prepared to meet the educational standards of universities like Princeton is depressingly small."

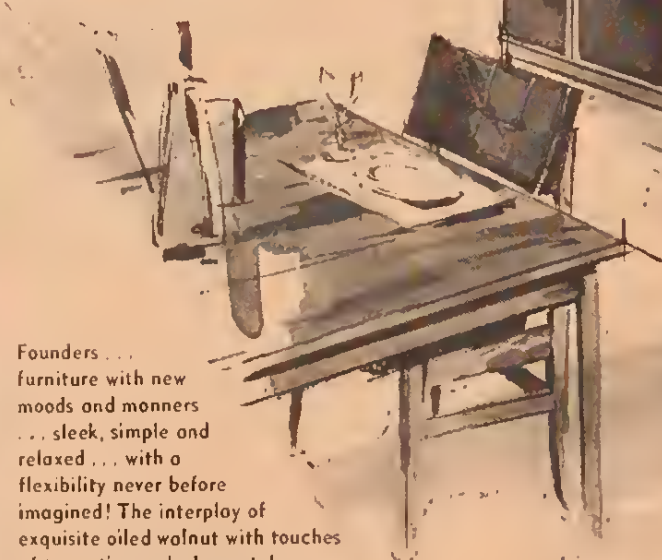

Praises Tutors. He praised the work now being done by undergraduates who are tutoring Negro junior high and senior high school students, and he cited "the instructional assistance various members of our faculty have been contributing to Princeton's public schools."

Finally, he listed public accommodation as an area where the University might help, and he said that the Nassau Inn and the Princeton Inn, two public establishments in which the University has financial interest, have been completely open "throughout my adult life." He then included McCarter Theatre, Baker Rink, lecture halls, playing fields and other University properties which were open to all whenever they were open to the public.

Dr. Goheen shared the platform with the Rev. Albert Tyson of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, who spoke briefly, and Dr. Peter Putnam, who served as master of ceremonies.

WHAT ABOUT FRANKLIN?

Or Guyot? More than 425 Township residents, uneasy about the traffic that may whiz by as a result of the Borough's new school, have petitioned the Township Planning Board to keep a watchful eye on the situation. About 15 of these petitioners appeared Monday night at the board meeting.

Petitioners are worried about Franklin Avenue, lest it be closed, and Guyot Avenue, lest it never be opened. Franklin is in the Borough, Guyot in the Township.

Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman told the gathering that Borough Council would have to pass an ordinance to vacate Franklin Avenue, and that he did not know whether such a commitment had been made. (Mayor Henry Patterson said at his Tuesday press conference that he knew of no such commitment.) Westminster Choir College has said that it looks forward to a "contiguous campus" and hopes to have Franklin "returned."

"If Franklin is closed," said the Rev. C. Shelby Rooks, 152 Guyot, "there will be no cross-streets to slow down the high-school drag-racers who use Walnut as a strip."

Guyot Avenue now stops at Walnut Lane. On the Borough School Board's layout, there is a parking lot where Guyot could be put through. The petitioners want Guyot cut through to Linden to provide another east-west channel besides Franklin, for the traffic they foresee once the school is occupied.

Gerald Breese, Planning Board chairman, outlined in detail the conversations planning board members have had with Borough and school board officials, and with Westminster Choir College.

He and Gordon Griffin, Borough and Township attorney, told Monday night's gathering that the question of Guyot's extension would come up when the Borough presents its subdivision plans to the Township Planning Board, and that it would be "unwise and improper" to decide anything ahead of that time.

However, Mr. Breese emphasized that the Planning Board wants Guyot open all the way, and that the Borough Board of Education is aware of this position.

In other business, the Planning Board:

- Agreed, if the Borough does, to absorb into the Township a parcel of land now in the Borough, a segment north of Palmer Stadium, including the Church tennis courts. The University plans a mathematics-physics building here and prefers to build the structure all in one municipality to avoid conflicting zoning-building regulations.

- Agreed to Princeton Day Schools' plan for access to its property from The Great Road. The access will be opposite the Benson driveway. The Day Schools' bulldozer will break through in November and will use this driveway as a construction lane.

CANVASS BEGINS

For Housing Statement. More than 300 Princeton citizens will begin this week to canvass for signatures to the Princeton Housing Group's statement on equal opportunity in housing.

The entire community of 4,800 households has been assigned to the volunteers. It is expected that the full job may take four weeks, although canvassers have been asked to make their first calls by next Monday.

According to Mrs. Edward Nelson, chairman, there is a backlog of 20 volunteers, a "waiting list" of persons not needed in the actual canvass who will be available if needed. The drive is being undertaken by the Princeton Housing Group with the cooperation of PAHR.

CANDIDATES SPEAK

Borough, Township. Civil rights and traffic problems occupied Borough candidates this week. Township candidates discussed civil rights and the problem of water pollution and sewerage.

Arthur J. Horton, Republican candidate for Council, said "I do not agree with my Democratic opponents that their proposed 'Human Rights Commission' (however well-intentioned) could or would accomplish anything... which our citizens groups could not do quicker and more effectively working alone."

"I am convinced," continued Mr. Horton, "that existing volunteer, grass-roots organizations such as PAHR are the most practical means of working on civil rights problems in Princeton. In the long run, the civil rights question will be solved, not by governments or by commissions, but by goodwill in the hearts of individual citizens."

Minot C. Morgan Jr., Democratic candidate for Mayor, referred this week to what he called "the relentless destruction of the Borough by the automobile," and listed three ways of attacking the problem.

First, the Route 206 bypass. Mr. Morgan charged that its construction is being blocked by State Senator Ozzard, "A Republican with whom Mayor Patterson seems to have no influence whatever."

Second, the all-day parker. The candidate said he would press for legislation to "recover the blacktop for housewives and other residents who must drive within Princeton during the day. This asphalt tidal wave must be dammed," Mr. Morgan said, adding that "the destruction of fine old residential areas to make way for unfilled parking lots is a public outrage."

Third, Mr. Morgan urged creation of a public transportation system with buses or jitneys which would come into Princeton from its outskirts. The candidate pointed out that the "battle of the automobile" requires the cooperation of Borough, Township and West Windsor, as well as the Chamber of Commerce and all major employers.

Turning to the housing situation, Mr. Morgan repeated his belief that opposition to public housing for the elderly is based on the problem of integrated housing, "an issue of which Mayor Patterson tries to deny the existence and on which he refuses to stand up and be counted."

He charged Borough officials with "depotentializing" the housing issue by scheduling the next hearing for the week after election.

Republican candidates for Township Committee, Russell Mount and Walter B. Foster Jr., said this week that they favored the extension of sewer mains to all built-up areas of the Township "as quickly as possible." Mr. Mount is a member of the Mercer County Sewer Commission.

Citing the difficulties presented by the heavy clay soils and impenetrable shale and trap rock underlying the northwestern part of the municipality, Mr. Mount said that "the health of every resident of the Township will be threatened" unless pollution in the area can be eliminated.

Mr. Foster referred to plans for the Hillside Avenue sewer which "Township Committee will carry through in the immediate future," and to the sewer now being extended parallel to The Great Road. He also pointed to extensions in the areas of Mt. Lucas, Herron-town Road and Ridgeview Circle.

Both candidates referred to the increasing load on the sewer treatment plant which will result from these new extensions. "Representatives on the Sewer Operating Committee from the Borough and the University are hesitant to make the necessary investments for expansion, and Princeton Township must find ways to convince them that the problem affects their interests."

Mr. Mount and Mr. Foster also spoke of the need for regional cooperation. "It makes more sense to work with Montgomery Township and Rocky Hill," they said, "than to pump sewage over the hill into our own treatment plant."

John R. Yost Jr., Democratic candidate for Township Committee, spoke this week on civil rights. "The conscience of the individual Princetonian is sensitive to civil rights," Mr. Yost said, "but now we must touch the conscience of the community. We have left this job with volunteer groups. Can they succeed without help from our elected officials? I don't think so."

Mr. Yost suggested that these volunteer groups could use the help of planning and zoning boards and could work openly with real estate groups, builders and employers if they had the public and official support of Township Committee.

"I am not suggesting that any member of Township Committee is against civil rights; in fact, I am positive they are not," Mr. Yost emphasized. "Being in favor of something is one thing, but taking the necessary steps to support this position is something quite different."

Mr. Yost said that in other cities and towns where progress has been made in civil rights, "real accomplishments were made with volunteer groups working in close harmony with governing officials. Too often, that cooperation didn't start until after the explosion took place. We don't need an explosion in Princeton; all we need is leadership from Township Committee."

Turn on the Shower!

October showers

A lovely brew
That goes right to My head.
But wouldn't it
Be better if That brew were Rain instead?

A state-wide ban on open fires in wooded areas is the latest development in the drought that is dominating autumnal weather. Rain is badly needed all along the eastern seaboard.

The Man reports that he can provide sympathy but no solution. Only the most scattered sort of showers are forecast anywhere in the East for the next few days. For those unconcerned about the dryness, the fair, warmer-than-normal weather will continue to be pleasant.

TWELVE ARE FINED

In Borough Court, Twelve Princeton area residents were fined Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr., seven for traffic violations.

Mrs. Raymond F. Male, 40, 76 Cedar Lane, and Miss Dorothy T. MacKenzie, 18, Dutch Neck, were each fined $15 for failing to set properly their cars' handbrakes. For failing to yield the right of way, Lee T. Swain, 25, 20 Lytle Street, paid $15, while Norman Williams Jr., 47, 74 Allison Road, drew a $12 fine for failing to signal as he drove away from the curb. Mr. Williams pleaded not guilty.

Fifteen dollar fines were levied against Roger Breese, 35, Belle Meade, late inspection, and Charles R. Ostroff, 17, 42 Cuyler Road, improper passing in an intersection. Preston Evers, 24, 204 Leigh Avenue, was fined $25 for operating an unregistered vehicle.

In criminal court, two teenagers, James L. Thompson, 18, 2 Titus Avenue, Lawrenceville, and Robert D. Rupert, 19, 20 Maple Avenue, Plainsboro, were fined $25 apiece for being drunk and disorderly. Cuy Thompson, 20, 30 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, was fined a similar amount as a minor in possession of alcohol.

William Saunders Jr., 19, 12 Berrien Court, denied a charge of being in possession of stolen property. Saunders had allegedly stolen eight tickets to the Princeton University-Pennsylvania football game from two students' rooms in Cuyler Hall. He was apprehended Saturday in front of Palmer Stadium by Chief of Police Peter J. McCrohan with two of the tickets in his possession. He was fined $25.

In a turnabout, a complainant was fined instead of the defendant Mrs. Margot Bastion, 94 Spruce Street, was ordered to pay $20 court costs to cover two charges against her husband, Willard C. Bastion Jr., 30, which were dismissed when Mrs. Bastion refused to press charges. Mr. Bastion had been charged by his wife with assault and with being disorderly.

SCHOOL HEAD INVITED

To Attend PTA Discussions, John McKenna, superintendent of Township schools, has been invited to attend PTA meetings at Valley Road and Community Park Schools.

He is scheduled to be at Community Park Monday and at Valley Road Tuesday, October 29, both times at 8. Eugene Biringer and John Wolfkeil, principals of the respective schools, will also attend the meetings to answer parents' questions on the school system.

LEADERSHIP IS THEME

Of Newman Event. The National Newman Club, Province of New Jersey will hold a leadership day at St. Paul's School in Princeton at 2 Sunday.

The theme of the program will be "Today's Leaders Tomorrow." The Newman Club of Classboro State College is the host organization along with the St. Paul's Sodality. The public is invited to attend at a charge of 75 cents.

STATE TAKES LICENSES

Of Four Area Drivers. Four Princeton area drivers have had their licenses revoked by the New Jersey Motor Vehicle Department, three under the point system.

They are Clifford C. Calhoun, 20, Skillman, three months; David Lumberger, 38, 48 Alexander Street, two months; and Charles H. Pellicino, 20, 171 Mount Rose Road, Pennington, one month. James B. Walker, Jr., 35, 25 Station Road, Cranbury, surrendered his license 30 days for speeding.

KAPPAS TO "EXPLORE"

At Chapter Meeting. The Trenton Suburban Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Kappa sorority will meet Tuesday at 8 to see a program entitled "Let's Explore the Northwest." Mrs. John H. Spooner, chapter vice-president, will narrate the showing of colored slides of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. The program will be at the home of Mrs. Harold Christoferson of 53 Merritt Drive, Lawrence Township. Each member has been asked to bring an article of warm clothing for the chapter's annual Christmas box to the Maine Seacoast Mission.

TO HONOR EDUCATOR

At Griggstown Party. A coffee party honoring the founder of the first American institution of higher education for women will be held Wednesday at the Mrs. Harry D. Bates, of Canal Road, Griggstown.

Mrs. Bates is the chairman of the Princeton area Emma Willard Day celebration. The day has been set apart by students of the Emma Willard School. The institution was founded 150 years ago.

Guests at the area party will include alumnae and parents of girls presently attending the school. Miss Willard was the first woman educator to be included in the United States Hall of Fame.

AWARD PRESENTED

To MS Contributor. Mrs. Robert McVeigh has been given a citation of merit by the Central New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society for her "distinguished service" to those suffering from the crippling disease.

Mrs. McVeigh, the mother of an MS patient, raised $395 for the society through an appeal for contributions. The award was presented by Mrs. St. John Terrell, owner of the Lambertville Music Circus and a member of the MS area chapter board of directors.

Mrs. Terrell has announced that there will be a benefit performance at the Playhouse Inn, New Hope, Pa., Friday, for the MS society. Reservations may be made by calling the chapter office in Trenton at EX 3-8625.

HAT FAIR PLANNED

By Columbiettes. The Columbiettes of Princeton, Auxiliary of Princeton Council 636, Knights of Columbus, will hold their annual Hat Fair Friday evening from 7 to 10 in the St. Paul's school cafeteria.

Hundreds of new fall hats and a large selection of handbags will be supplied by Reeds Millinery. There will be no salesladies and one may try on as many hats as one wishes. There will be two door prizes and refreshments.

Chairman of the fair is Ann Miller. She is being assisted by Ida Toto, Gerry Barclay, Rose Muehlisen, Edna Luther, Rose Brabson and Claire Miller.

The Columbiettes will attend a Knights meeting in Sportswood on Thursday.

FACULTY WIVES TO MEET

For History Talk. The Princeton University Junior Faculty Wives will hold their first meeting Monday at 8 in the faculty lounge of Firestone Library.

Mrs. Robert Crieff, the guest speaker, will discuss "The History of Princeton through its Architecture." The year's board members are Mrs. Anthony Maruca, president; Mrs. Scott McVay, program chairman; Mrs. James Larsen, social chairman; Mrs. John McMillan, secretary; and Mrs. George Lerol, treasurer.

Other chairmen include Mrs.

$3000 GIVEN

To Bryn Mawr Fund. The Bryn Mawr College Club of Princeton has presented $3000 to the school for graduate work in the history of art. The award is known as the Gertrude Achenbach Coor Memorial Fellowship, for a late Princeton resident and employee of Marquand Library at Princeton University.

Mrs. Coor, who died September 1962, was a scholar of Italian Renaissance painting. Her friends, relatives and colleagues contributed the funds for the scholarship.

The money will be credited to Bryn Mawr's $10 million fund raising program. Virginia Spate is the recipient of the grant. She is working for her Ph.D. degree in the history of art.

The Ford Foundation has awarded Bryn Mawr a grant of $2.5 million if the college can raise $7.5 million from other sources by July 1, 1965.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK

In Lawrence Township. The Lawrence Township Provisional League of Women Voters and Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a candidates' night Monday at 8:30 in the cafeteria of Lawrence Junior High School.

All six candidates for committeeman have accepted invitations to attend the meeting. They will participate in a discussion and question-and-answer period.

The candidates are Joseph M. Mahan and Herman W. Hanssler, Democrats; William Meagher and Arthur Venezel, independents; and Clifford W. Snedeker and Harry Radcliff Jr., Republicans. Dr. Bruce McClellan, headmaster of Lawrenceville School, will act as moderator.

Mrs. Clive Usiskin, president of the league, and James Keuser, president of the Jaycees, will preside at the meeting. Arrangements have been made by Mrs. Stephen Sussna and Michael Stroukoff Jr.

BIRTHS

Twins Born. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Geherty of Mt. Lucas Road became parents of twin boys on October 11 at Princeton Hospital. In all, 20 children were born last week; 12 were boys.

Sons were also born to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Froehlich Jr., Millstone Road, Cranbury, October 8; Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wyckoff, Van Dyke Road, Hopewell, October 9; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bradford, Perrine Road, Plainsboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Judea Pearl, 21 Burnet Street, New Brunswick, both on October 10; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Green-span, 49 Clearview Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. John Fischer, 298 Snowden Lane; Mr. and Mrs. John F. ## Bond Issue Approved

The special referendum held to seek approval for a $12 million bond issue to underwrite the cost of a new borough elementary and junior high school was approved Tuesday.

By a vote of 705 to 79, Borough voters backed the proposal which involves sale of the Nassau Street and Witherspoon Schools and their replacement with a new building northeast of Princeton High School. Eleven ballots were invalidated, and the turnout represented 17% of the electorate.

Overall cost of the construction program is estimated at $2.5 million, with sale of the present school properties providing the additional funds. The new building is scheduled to be ready by October, 1965.

a luncheon Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Alfred A. Fraser III of Lovat Farm, Pennington.

Those who have not been contacted should call Mrs. Frank T. Gorman Jr. at WA 4-1037. Mrs. Gorman is president of the club.

GET ACQUAINTED

At Lawrenceville Program. The Lawrenceville Elementary School PTA will hold a "get acquainted" night for parents and staff members Thursday in the All-Purpose Room of the school.

There will be a covered dish supper at 7 followed by a business meeting at 8:15. Mrs. Clifford Eggert will preside and William McGrath, Lawrence Township civil defense director, will speak on civil defense.

DRAMATIST TO ENTERTAIN

Woman's Club. Mrs. Raymond J. Kennedy, a dramatist, will entertain at the meeting Thursday of the Woman's Club to be held at the Shrline Club at 1:30.

Mrs. Kennedy will present "Dramatic Book-O-Log" adapted from "Dear Papa" by Thyra Ferre Bjorn. A native of Philadelphia, Mrs. Kennedy studied dramatic art at Mary Baldwin College in Virginia and has served on the lecturing staff at Wesley Junior College, Delaware.

CHAIRMEN TO REPORT

At Bryn Mawr Meeting. The Bryn Mawr Club of Princeton will hold its fall meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ernest A. Lynton of 665 Snowden Lane. The program will begin at 8:15.

Miss Diana D. Lucas, newly-appointed scholarship chairman, will give a report, as will Mrs. Oakes Ames, book sale chairman, and Mrs. Raymond H. Carter, general appeal chairman of the Princeton area committee for Bryn Mawr's $10 million fund-raising campaign. Mrs. Lynton, president, will head the meeting.

PLAYERS TO ENTERTAIN

For Senior Citizens. The YW-CA Senior Citizens will hold their bi-monthly meeting Friday at 2:30 in the Y lounge.

Leo and Lois Cohen of the Princeton Community Players will give a reading entitled "A Pair of Lunatics." Mrs. Carrie Ferguson will act as hostess and provide refreshments.

All women over 65 years of age are invited to attend the performance. Those needing transportation should contact Mrs. Frederick Fields at WA 1-2781.

SEVEN STEPS TO EXPERT CLEANING CARPET SERVICE

Contrary to popular belief, rug cleaning is not a simple do-it-yourself process. Rugs can represent a substantial amount of your home furnishings' investment. Careful home care, proper handling, expert cleaning and repairing give added dividends in longer wear as well as greater beauty.

This is how our rug cleaning experts — with over 30 years experience in this field — handle your investment. 1. When your call is received, a pick-up of your rug is scheduled at your convenience. Up to four men are available, and one

ALUMNAE INVITED
To Goucher Meeting. Goucher College alumnae will hold a meeting for area residents Monday at 8 in the home of Mrs. John Eckelberry of 505 Mercer Road.
Those attending will hear a report from Mrs. Eckelberry on recent alumnae council meetings held on the college campus in Baltimore. Mrs. Nathaniel McLean, president of the club, will conduct the business meeting. Those wishing further information should contact Mrs. John P. McLusky of 89 Meadowbrook Drive.

KINGSTON ORGANIZES FOR UP-RED CROSS APPEAL.
Mrs. W. Kenzie Teller is serving as chairman for the house-to-house canvass in Kingston for the United Fund-Red Cross campaign. William Flemer III is chairman of the business division solicitation.
Volunteers assisting Mrs. Teller are Mrs. Cedric Bondine, Mrs. William Barnes, Mrs. William L. Koerber, Mrs. Richard J. Casey, Mrs. Norbert A. Considine Jr., Mrs. Oscar Owen, Mrs. Benjamin Stewart Jr., Mrs. David Taglioli, Mrs. Fred Clark, Mrs. George Cutsogogorge and Mrs. Russell Baldrige.

Also, Mrs. George Stevens, Mrs. T. Hollingsworth Andrews III, Mrs. Matthias Holander, Mrs. John W. Flemer, Mrs. William R. Hilgendorf Jr., Mrs. Robert. Brian, Mrs. Howard J. Smith, Mrs. Herman C. Niehaus, Mrs. Leo Olway, Mrs. Nicholas Manni and Mrs. Charles Stults.
Joseph F. Catelli, a campaign vice-president, points out that Kingston obtains the benefits of such member agencies as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Princeton Hospital, Retarded Children's Association, Child Guidance Service, Family Service, Homemakers Service, Mental Health, Visiting Nurses, Nursery School, YMCA and YWCA.

"THIS IS A STICK UP"
Watts Store Is Robbed. Barkling. "This is a stick-up, put all your money together," a Negro youth robbed the Watts Grocery Store on Route 206 Friday morning at 2 a.m. and escaped with approximately $86. The store is open 24 hours a day.
Mrs. Mary Watts told investigating Township police that the youth, whom she described as in his early twenties, entered the store armed with a small bore revolver. He wore gloves. Covering his face with a skin tight mask and a handkerchief was used to conceal his identity.
The thief jumped into a car and escaped. He was alone, Mrs. Watts said.

COUPLE IS STRUCK
Crossing Nassau Street. Miss Maria Mascoli, 18, of Brooklyn, a student at Cortland State College, New York, and her escort, Terry Torkel, 17, 1901 Hall, Princeton University, were injured Saturday afternoon when they were crossing Nassau Street at Palmer Square.

*Three-Minute Blast
The public alert signal for Civil Defense will sound at 2 p.m. on Tuesday. The all-clear will sound at 2:15.
Capt. Geoffrey E. Sage, Civil Defense director, has announced that the exercise will not affect traffic, and the public is not required to seek shelter.
Capt. Sage recommends, however, that industries and schools review all plans for the protection of the occupants, implementing such plans if possible.

The time of arrival in Trenton has been set for 4-4:30 on October 26 and plans are currently underway to obtain transportation for participating groups.
Directors of the march have issued a pamphlet outlining ten specific demands that area civil rights leaders wish the state to fulfill. Among the demands are the elimination of de facto school segregation, enactment of fair housing legislation and establishment of civil rights divisions in every major New Jersey city.

FACULTY HONORED
At Chapin Dinner. The board of trustees of the Chapin School held a dinner party Wednesday in honor of the school's faculty. The dinner took place at the Marro Inn.
Mrs. Edwards Ahrens served as chairman of the affair and was assisted by Mrs. Frederick Clark. The honored guests were Mrs. Benjamin Appel, Mrs. A.W. Bullock, Mrs. Elmer Chase, Mrs. Elizabeth Danner, Mrs. George Davison, Mrs. Nancy DeLong, Mrs. Kenneth Gooding, Mrs. Manuel Greenblatt, Mrs. Robert Halliez, Miss Ruth Ible, Mrs. Herman Miller.
Also, Alex Robinson, assistant headmaster, Sherwood Smith, Mrs. Paul S. Smith, headmistress; Fred Staudenmayer, Mrs. Carl Feldman, Mrs. Peter Walch and Mrs. Harrison Young.

CUBS TO MEET
At Community Park School. Cub Scout Pack 77 will hold its second fall meeting Thursday, October 24, at Community Park School.
The PTA-sponsored pack is in the process of forming a new den. Boys interested in joining are invited to attend the meeting. The first outing for the group will be Saturday's Princeton-Colgate game.

TO HEAR MOZART
At Music Meeting. The Princeton Music Club will meet Wednesday at 8:30 in the home of Mrs. Mackenly Bryan.
The program will include selections from Mozart, Bach, Sor, Telemann and Turino. Performing will be Maria Pas-cu, Laura Hayes, Cecil Her-man, Dorothy Kovacs and guest guitarist, George Olaz-an.

1. When your car is received, a pick-up of your rug is arranged at your convenience. Up to four men are available, and one of two trucks or station wagon will call for it, depending upon the rug's size.)

2. All men are trained to roll rugs and move furniture when necessary. Respect and care for your personal belongings are uppermost in their minds. (We have complete insurance coverage in case of damage or breakage.) At the time of pick-up, you received a numbered receipt for all rugs, and each rug is tagged with your name, number and list of services required.

3. Upon entering our own plant (your visit is welcome at any time), your rug is measured, dusted, spot-cleaned, and then completely cleaned as soon as possible. The type of cleaning it receives depends on the kind of rug. There are approximately seven different processes we can employ. Whether your rug is a fine, delicate tapestry or a cotton bath mat, each gets its correct process.

4. Drying is just as important as washing. We have a large dry-room where rugs can be hung full-length or laid flat, with automatic heat control and proper air circulation, or for sunshine drying, large lawn areas are available.

5. After drying, rugs are inspected before they are rolled, wrapped, packed or placed in storage. If additional attention is required, your rug can be re-washed, or spotted to assure the best possible results.

6. While awaiting delivery, rugs are kept in storage tubes. These tubes keep them free from dust and not in contact with other rugs — thus preventing crushing.

7. Your rug is delivered to you at your convenience. Rugs and pads are expertly laid if requested. Pads are trimmed where necessary.

There is a nominal charge for laying rugs. This is not included in the cleaning price because most rugs are not laid by our men. This charge is made separately because a hidden charge would not be fair or ethical.

BUSINESS In Princeton

IN YOUR OPINION . . .
ORC is 25 Years Old. A lot can happen in 25 years. When Opinion Research Corporation was founded in October, 1938, there was a staff of two: its founder, the late Claude Robinson, and his secretary. Today its staff, headquartered at Princeton Research Park, Terhune Road, numbers over 100. This is backed up by a part-time interviewing staff of 1,200 stationed throughout the country. In the process of undertaking some 1,500 marketing and attitude studies, more than 2,000,000 interviews have been conducted. That's a lot of "In your opinions . . ."

Essentially the scope of ORC remains unchanged from what it was at the beginning: research for marketing and for industrial and public relations. To illustrate, the firm recently was studying the change in brand identification, measuring reaction to television commercials, studying the motivations for foreign travel, and preparing a report on how a community felt toward its largest employer. A division of ORC—Public Opinion Index for Industry—is observing its 20th anniversary. Financed by some 70 corporations and associations, the Index examines broad problems of concern to management.

In addition, the company also has two subsidiaries: Market Dynamics, Inc., established in 1962, and Market Insights, Inc. with offices in New York which was organized this year. The latter is concerned with exploratory and developmental marketing research as well as full-scale studies.

The firm's first office was a two-room suite in New York's Chrysler Building. It moved the following year to Princeton, where it first occupied offices in the First National Bank and later at 44 Nassau Street before going to its present location. Its present chairman of the board is Joseph C. Bevis; Walter G. Barlow is president.

STABLE TO LOCATE HERE
Breeding, racing. A thoroughbred breeding and racing stable, Princeton Stable, Inc., will be established in the Princeton area next spring. Incorporation of the stable at a capitalization of $125,000 was announced this week.

The new enterprise will be managed by the Economic Research Center, Inc., 92A Nassau, R.T. Marchand, treasurer of the Center, is the owner of the four horses that will serve as nucleus for the stable, according to F. A. Wiehl, director of the Center who will be business manager for Princeton Stable, Inc.

At present, Mr. Marchand's horses are at El Comandante, the track in Puerto Rico. They will move north in time for Hialeah in January. Mr. Wiehl said this week that the organization hopes to acquire facilities near Hopewell to accommodate Princeton residents who own horses and who will be part of Princeton Stable, Inc.

The names of these Princeton residents have not been disclosed.

"PACE" SET
New Organization Forming. From the nucleus of the Institute for the Study of National Behavior (240 Nassau Street), a new organization to be known as PACE is now in the process of formation.

PACE is the acronym for Program to Advance Cultural Exchange. The organization will be a many-faceted one, concerned with research, training and actual work on exchange programs. The national behavior institute will serve as the research arm, investigating the conduct and consequences of international exchange programs, and training the people who will work eventually for other branches of PACE.

In addition, there will be a Center for Cross-Cultural Communication, located in Washington, D.C., and specializing in public education; a training program for students going abroad so that their stay in a foreign country will be a cultural experience rather than a travelogue and a branch to be known as the Fridtjof Nansen Fund which will arrange exchange programs from a base in Oslo.

Princeton operations will be conducted from the Hopewell Center for international study, to be located on the Moore's Hill-Mt. Rose Road in a building known as "Bryce Thompson's Barn." The Center will serve as a focal point for social scientists engaged in research on cultural exchange, and for foreign service officers who want additional training in the techniques of international exchange.

The board of directors of the Institute for the Study of National Behavior consists of Bryant Wedge, director of the Institute; Hadley Cantril, Julius Cohen, Frank Reiche, Willard Dalrymple and Robert Tucker.

The Institute for National Behavior is now seeking financial support for PACE so that it can launch its program and provide itself, through the Hopewell Center, with a base for operations.

Why I Plan to Vote Republican | Democratic

By Elric G. Endersby

By Robert P. Von Verdo

I have always voted Republican and I will continue to do so unless some very drastic changes occur in the political philosophy of that party.

In advertising, great store is placed on creating a favorable climate for a product with the hope that loyalty will ensue. Loyalty to that product is developed by initial free choice and continued satisfactory performance. If the majority of impressions are favorable the loyalty continues.

Conversely, poor performance, exaggerated claims and dubious practices leave less appealing impressions. Within the past 30 years three Democratic administrations in Washington, D.C. have passed from an era of arrogance, through political wheeling and dealing to a position of fiscal irresponsibility. There appear no signs that these attitudes are likely to change if the present leadership is continued.

In matters of budget balancing, dispersion of foreign aid, use of public funds and proliferation of government agencies the present administration seems almost profligate.

It seems ironic that so many individuals who are proud of their personal financial solvency and thrift can accept without question our present national policies which appear so fiscally flagrant (or is it fishily flagrant?).

This nationally-expounded philosophy can be curbed only by a concerted corrective effort commencing on a local plane.

The politically astute planners of the Kennedy campaign recognized the importance of the individual voter. There is a lesson to be learned here. Only by supporting locally our Republican candidates can the total health of the state and national organizations be strengthened.

While national practices and attitudes seem not to apply directly to our Township affairs, certainly the local candidates for both major parties will be influenced by the political philosophies they espouse.

And so, I shall vote for Russell Mount and Walter Foster, Republican candidates for Township Committee and David Thompson, Republican candidate for Tax Collector, along with the other able candidates on the Republican ticket.

I shall vote the straight Republican ticket—with vigah!

Topics Of The Town

REPUBLICANS TO RALLY

In West Windsor. The West Windsor Republican Club will stage a rally for the party's local and county candidates at 8:30 p.m. next Thursday at the Dutch Neck firehouse.

Alvin Carson, aspirant for Township committee, and candidates for county freeholder, state assembly and sheriff will discuss campaign issues.

WIG FASHION SHOW NEXT

At Jewish Center. A fashion show of hair pieces and wigs will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Princeton Jewish Center. Mrs. Margaret Jeffries of Artistic Hairdressers will commentate. The public is invited.

Sponsors of the show are the Women's Division and the B'nai B'rith. Ruth Bonin and Nancy Alexander of B'nai B'rith and Lillian Goldman of the Women's Division are hostesses.

NATURE FILMS PLANNED

By Naturalist Club. The first of five Audubon Screen Tours will be shown at 8 p.m. this Thursday by the Trenton Naturalist Club. The color film, "Awake to Nature," will be narrated by Dr. Alfred G. Etter, ecologist.

The public showing is scheduled for the Cadwalader Elementary School on Edgewood

I have never identified myself with either the Republican or Democratic party, preferring to weigh the issues and candidates from my own point of reference and vote accordingly. It is my thought also that national political philosophies have very little influence on local issues.

The overriding need locally is for an aggressive, intelligent, and forward-looking leadership. I believe such men as William Sloane and John Yost represent such leadership for our community. And since they are running on the Democratic ticket, I will, therefore, vote Democratic in next month's Township election.

As a resident of several years in Princeton Township, I have become increasingly disturbed by the inertia shown in matters of concern to Township residents. Committee reports are valuable indications of our needs and can serve as guidelines for action; but, unless they are implemented by timely action, they have little value.

A case in point is the proposed recreation program which has been in and out of Committee for years. It is a sad commentary on us that our young people lack even the most elemental recreation facilities.

I would like to see more initiative shown and positive action taken regarding local civil rights issues. I would like to see more forward-looking and courageous planning for the Township's future, incorporating better communications and specific planning with our neighboring townships.

We are, after all, but one municipality and our future is surely going to be strongly affected by our neighbors. But I see little evidence of such action being taken.

I believe the Democratic candidates are unusually qualified to provide the leadership needed to produce today for our immediate and distant future. Both have demonstrated their capabilities and capacity to serve our best interests in a variety of civic causes. For these reasons I will cast my vote for the Democratic candidates.

Avenue, between Murray Street and West End Avenue, Trenton. Admission is 90 cents for adults, children 35 cents. Other films in the series will be shown November 22, January 15, February 14 and March 23 at Junior 3 School, West State Street.

TO DISCUSS BOND ISSUE

At Lions Meeting. The Princeton Lions Club will meet Tuesday, October 29, at 7 in the Nassau Inn.

Albert Kahn, treasurer of the Citizens Committee for the Bond Issue, will address the meeting. He will speak on the proposed $750 million issue which will come up for approval on the November ballot.

RUMMAGE IN KINGSTON

Planned by Auxiliary. The Ladies Auxiliary of Kingston Fire Company Number One will sponsor a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, October 25 and 26. Hours are 9 to 4 and 6 to 9 the first day and 9 to noon the second.

PRESIDENT ELECTED

By Lawrence Jaycees, James K. Kuser has been elected president of the Lawrence Junior Chamber of Commerce. He will replace Lindsay C. Taliaferro Jr., president elect since June, who is leaving to work in Chicago.

Mr. Kuser is general manager of radio station W.T.O.A. and Mercer County Background Music company, both of Trenton. A resident of Lawrence Township, Mr. Kuser is a charter member of the Jaycees and has served as charter secretary and public relations director for the area chapter.

A graduate of Lawrenceville School and the University of Virginia, he is a division captain in the Delaware Valley United Fund for 1964. Mr. Kuser is married and has three children.

CIVIL RIGHTS FORUM

Politicians Climb Aboard. Princeton politicians will scrutinize the civil rights issues next Wednesday at a public forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters. The session begins at 8:15 p.m. in the Community Park School auditorium.

Candidates for Borough mayor and council and for the Township committee will speak. The question posed by the nonpartisan League asks, "What would be your reaction to the appointment of an official Borough-Township Human Relations Commission to assure equal opportunity in housing, recreation and employment for all residents of the community?"

Borough mayoralty candidates are Henry S. Patterson (R), the incumbent, and Minot C. Morgau Jr. (D) who served as mayor 17 years ago. Candidates for the two places open on the Borough Council are Dr. Elwood W. Godfrey (R), incumbent; Arthur J. Horton (R), Paul Baldeagle (D) and Joseph R. Strayer (D).

For Township Committee, which has two vacancies coming up, candidates are Russell Mount (R), Walter B. Foster Jr. (R), John R. Yost (D) and William M. Sloane (D).

Mrs. Elmer Alpert will be moderator, Mrs. Earl Tanner, chairman and Mrs. Oakes Ames, timekeeper. Hostesses will be Mrs. Harold Borkan, Mrs. David A. Thomas, Mrs. Lydia Abbott, Mrs. Edward A. Doney Jr., Mrs. Marvin C. Soffen and Mrs. A. James Fenton Jr. Refreshments will be served.

WEST WINDSOR IN 1970?

Candidates to surmise West Windsor's growing pains will be discussed by township committee candidates next Thursday at a public meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters. The forum will begin at 8:15 p.m. at the Dutch Neck Firehouse.

Members of the West Windsor unit in charge of the session are Mrs. Edwin Gatehell, moderator; Mrs. George Schwartz, coordinator and timekeeper, and Mrs. Daniel Rosner, chairman.

Hostesses will be Mrs. John Dismukes, Mrs. William Fry III, Mrs. Richard Lidz, Mrs. Marvin Reed, Mrs. Kenneth Schwartz and Mrs. John Thompson. The non-partisan League urges all West Windsor residents to attend.

WATER SUPPLY GREATER

During Summer Months. The Princeton Water Company has announced that it furnished customers with 26 percent more water during the past summer than in 1962.

The company pumped 386 million gallons in the four summer months of 1963 as compared to 306 million in 1962. In September, the community was supplied with 87 million gallons, an 11 percent increase over the previous year.

In June 26, the peak day, customers were furnished with 4.7 million gallons. The 1962 record of 3.5 million was reached several times.

Question of the Week

Question: Should the American Negro, for a limited period, receive preferential treatment in jobs, housing and the like to make up for his long years of deprivation?

Where asked: Palmer Square

Mrs. Frederick Seiler, 376 Jefferson Road, editor: I think preferential treatment in jobs and housing would be a good idea but I would be satisfied if the Negro just got equal treatment, which he is not getting now. Actually, I think the most important thing is to give the Negro preferential treatment in education, especially in his early years, because if he gets behind at the beginning he never is able to catch up.

Frank Eckert, Levittown, Pa., engineer for Fifth Dimension, Route 206: No, I think he should receive fair treatment in other words, true equality with no discrimination but not actual preferential treatment. I think if we do this, then the long-sought equality will be accomplished.

Mrs. Gusta Akerlof, 384 Stockton Street, housewife: I feel rather strongly they should. Don't you think they've been at a great disadvantage for a long time? Even with preferential treatment, the American Negro will have quite a hard time to overcome some of his handicaps — the backlog is so great. From the standpoint of education, the percentage of Negroes in graduate schools and Ivy League colleges is all out of proportion to their number.

Mrs. Dorothy LeSchandler, Lake Drive, Trenton, secretary to Dr. Russell S. Edmonds, Princeton Pike: I honestly don't believe you can go back and correct the wrongs that have been done by giving the Negro preferential treatment now. But most assuredly, he should receive equal treatment today.

Daryl Johns, Alexander Hall, Princeton Theological Seminary: Yes, I feel that some sort of compensation should be made to the American Negro. I worked in a Protestant Parish in East Harlem this summer and I could observe where the need was apparent, especially for work. Whether this kind of solution — preferential treatment — is a right or a proper solution, I don't know. I know it wouldn't be THE solution; it is simply a step. On the question of preferential treatment in jobs: if this means another kind of discrimination, in effect, against those who may be more qualified for the job, then this has to be taken under consideration.

Mrs. Hately Bohlen, 220-C Marshall Street, test writer for ETS: Yes, I think in order to make up for the present great disparity some preferential treatment seems inevitably necessary and justified. No doubt time will redress the balance so that job opportunities are equally available to people of all races.

Dan Funkenstein, Little Hall, Princeton, University senior: No, I don't see why the American Negro should be compensated. I think he has a right here and now and today to equality but no right for compensation for past inequalities.

Mrs. Shiri Leslie, Tenacre. I would say they need a little more education and training before receiving preferential treatment. I feel that's the answer: more education so they will be treated as equals and not looked down upon. Once they get more education it will work out as we all know it will. God did not intend for any race to be favored over another.

Mrs. Ellen Reudale, 15 Leigh Avenue, sales clerk, Niles Bakery: No, I don't think that should be the answer. I think they should have equal, not preferential, treatment. I think we should treat them just as we would want to be treated ourselves. The Lord answered that question: "Do unto others..."

Mrs. Sarah Seidlitz, 50 Tecumseh Place, housewife: Yes, I do, because I feel this is the one way to establish the fact that with the same education, people should have the same opportunity for jobs. The Negro ought to have the opportunity to work. I think preferential treatment for a limited time is one way to start it. It is necessary for the morale of all these people who for years have been rejected. Everybody needs a chance.

Mrs. Christine Kornegay, 30 Race Street, housewife: Yes, I feel they should, I feel very strongly about this. There have been Negroes who have been deprived even though, in many cases, they have had the training and the economic means for better housing and jobs. I feel it is important particularly to the Negro youth of America to be able to feel equal at last. Some of the utter hopelessness that their parents have felt for so long because they have been discriminated against, is to affect the Negro youth. They are highly sensitive to the atmosphere they live in and if the future promises hope they will sense it and respond to it.

enabled the firm to meet the increased demand. Each unit has a capacity of 750,000 gallons, allowing the company to place restrictions on the use of water for only 48 hours in June during the installation period.

Officials are compiling data so that planning may be done for additional improvements to meet an expected increase in demand in 1964. The company is also working on well flows this fall.

OFFICERS NAMED

By Lawrence Citizens. The Lawrence Township High School Central Citizens Committee held its first meeting last week to elect officers.

Harry H. Pratt was named chairman, Warren Taylor, vice-chairman and Joseph Drulis, secretary. Other members of the committee are Mrs. James E. Armington, Aaron Biddle, Francis Branigan, Robert A. Carlisle, Lloyd A. Carver, Dr. Milton Caster, Mrs. Norman Fitton, Frank Maronian, John A. Harrell, Robert P. Hills, Dr. Frederick L. Hipp, Joseph M. Jingo Jr., H.B. Lyon, Mrs. John F. Marshall, Mrs. John Monk, Mrs. Michael Pezzicola and Kermit V. Ukkerd.

The committee was formed to assist the board of education on educational planning and communication matters in connection with the proposed high school. The group will serve in study and advisory capacities.

It will review educational specifications, construction and cost information and financing plans. The committee will also have responsibility for making plans to inform the public on the project and assisting the board in determining what students should be housed in the school.

PRINT SHOW SET

At Gallery 100. Landscapes by leading American print-makers will be exhibited at Gallery 100 starting Monday and continuing through November 21.

The prints to be shown have been chosen from the New York exhibition that was covered by New York Times critic John Canaday in August of this summer. Entire issues of some prints have been sold since the New York show, except for the single copy reserved for Gallery 100's exhibit. In such cases, that single print will be on sale here.

Visitors to the gallery will be asked to indicate which artists they prefer as a guide to the gallery in stocking prints for future sale.

TAKE MY FOSSIL!

Children Invited to Contribute. Rock specimens, exotic stamps, butterflies — anything which children themselves are interested in, may be taken on loan to the new Princeton Junior Museum for its first exhibit, scheduled to open in November, on the third floor of Borough Hall.

Mildred G. Goldberger, acting director, hopes to avoid "collections," and to find instead single specimens of shells, bottled insects, early American dolls, arrowheads, Roman coins. Each child who lends an object for display will receive a certificate of appreciation.

Boys and girls who would like to contribute are invited to take their objects to the third floor of Borough Hall next Saturday, October 26, between 9 and 4, and Sunday, October 27, between 2 and 5.

The museum is not in a position to accept anything that is alive, even a live plant, and will reject firmly anything made from a science kit, according to Mrs. Goldberger.

Boys and girls who are not collectors but who are interested in the new museum may call at Borough Hall during the hours listed above to examine a sample display and to sign up for various museum activities. Anyone under 10 years of age must bring an adult along.

The museum has been established by a board of private citizens under the chairmanship of John R. Martin. The first exhibit is being organized

WHAT IS THE CHURCH? IS IT NECESSARY? IS IT A DENOMINATION? IS IT AN INVISIBLE FEDERATION OF ALL DENOMINATIONS? CAN A PERSON BE SAVED WITHOUT BEING A MEMBER OF ANY CHURCH? WHAT DOES CHRIST HAVE TO DO WITH THE CHURCH, IF ANYTHING? IF CHRIST IS THE SAVIOUR, WHY BELONG TO A CHURCH ANYWAY? ACTUALLY ....

IS THE CHURCH Really IMPORTANT?

Only one book in the world, the Bible, can teach us accurately and fully about this widely misunderstood subject, the church. To clearly understand the church one must first clearly understand two principles relating to the church.

The first principle is that Jesus Christ, and not man, was the builder, founder, head, and foundation of the church (Matthew 16:18; Ephesians 1:22; 1 Corinthians 3:11).

The second principle to understand is that the word church means "the called out"—referring to those individuals who have been called out of the world through the gospel and have been redeemed by the blood of Christ (Acts 2:47; 2 Thessalonians 2:14; 1 Peter 1:18,19).

The church is therefore the spiritual domain made possible, or purchased by, the blood of Christ (Acts 20:28; 1 Corinthians 6:19,20). This relationship is also described as the spiritual body of Christ (Ephesians 1:23; Colossians 1:18,24) and also as the kingdom of Christ (Colossians 1:13; Hebrews 12:28). Hence, we may fairly conclude that:

Jesus Christ is the head of his church.
Jesus Christ is the saviour of his spiritual body.
Jesus Christ is the king of his kingdom.

And all three of these spiritual institutions—the church, the body, and the kingdom—are one and the same. They refer to the very same spiritual realm or relationship wherein Jesus Christ saves. Christ does not save outside of his church, outside of his spiritual body, or outside of his kingdom.

When a person is baptized "into Christ" (Romans 6:3), he is at the same time baptized into the church of Christ (Acts 2:38-41), the body of Christ (1 Corinthians 12:13), and the kingdom of Christ (John 3:3-5). These are not three different organizations, but simply three different designations of the same spiritual fellowship in which Christ saves.

Therefore, all—not a few, or some, or many—persons who have been redeemed by the blood of Christ are, without any choice in the matter, members of Christ's church or body or kingdom.

When these basic Bible teachings are comprehended, men will no longer teach or imply that the church is unnecessary to a person's salvation. It is true that Christ—and not the church—is the Saviour, but—and this is equally true—the church is that very spiritual body or kingdom that Christ will ultimately save (1 Corinthians 15:24; Ephesians 5:27). The church does not save. It is the body of the saved.

Yes, the church is inseparably linked with Christ, the blood of Christ, and man's salvation. Christ's precious blood was shed in order that individual souls might have remission of their sins through acceptance of and obedience to Christ's will (Matthew 26:28; Hebrews 5:8,9). The Bible teaches that the church was "purchased" by the blood of the Lord (Acts 20:28) inasmuch as all individuals redeemed by Christ constitute the church.

Does, then, one have to be a member of Christ's church or spiritual body or kingdom to be saved? While many will say "No" through misunderstanding, the Word of God teaches plainly that the church is that spiritual body which Christ will save (Ephesians 5:23). It necessarily follows that if a person wants to be a part of the spiritual body which Christ will save he must, therefore, be a member of Christ's church.

Barnett Mistreated

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Noting the vocal demonstrations which turned out against Mississippi's Gov. Ross Barnett, I could not help but wonder where those demonstrators had been when Alger Hiss and Fidel Castro spoke under similar circumstances at Princeton. As a matter of fact, I cannot recall any demonstrations at all on those occasions.

Now there is a considerable difference between Fidel Castro and Alger Hiss on the one hand, and Gov. Barnett on the other. Castro is the iron-fisted bloody-handed puppet of our enemy who says he will bury us, and Alger Hiss is a convicted traitor, a sometime clandestine ally of our would-be burier.

Gov. Barnett, on the other hand, is a loyal American citizen and the elected governor of one of our sister American States, a man whose position, like our own governor's, merits the title "Honorable" and who is entitled to certain respect. No matter what our differences may be with Gov. Barnett, they logically cannot be as great as our differences with Messrs. Hiss and Castro.

Yet in seeming paradox, we listen unprotestingly to the enemy and to his agent, and then turn out to hoot like a bunch of apes at our fellow citizen. Since when are our differences within our own country greater than our differences with our foes? Surely Khrushchev himself would have chuckled at the Barnett spectacle.

Not once in the many years since I was a boy at the Nassau Street school, to when I was a landing boat officer in World War II and fought alongside Mississippians and other southerners who came to be my friends in our common cause against our country's enemies, to when I graduated from Princeton University, to when I returned to Princeton to live here, work, run for county office, etc.—not once in those years have I had cause to wonder as I did this month what strange divisive evil has gripped our town.

What is wrong with us? Would we like our Gov. Hughes to be treated thus before an audience in another State? I am ashamed.

JOHN E. KUSER

Avoid Duplication

To the Editor of Town Topics:

A few weeks ago, Mr. Minot Morgan, the Democratic candidate for Mayor of Princeton Borough, proposed the establishment of a Civil Rights Commission in the Borough. This Commission would require a paid staff whose duties would include the finding and reporting of situations involving discrimination in housing, employment, and services.

This would have been an excellent idea if it had been proposed six months ago. However, it was not. What did happen in May of this year, on a voluntary basis, was the formation of the Princeton Association for Human Rights whose activities cover the same areas of concern that Mr. Morgan's proposed commission would cover.

PAHR has made some progress in changing employment and other practices, as mentioned in the Man of the Week article October 3. Before the Borough goes to the expense of setting up a Commission, give PAHR the opportunity to prove what a group of dedicated people can do on a voluntary basis to improve conditions in the community.

16TH FESTIVAL SET

For World Fellowship. Plans are under way for the YWCA's 16th International Festival, scheduled for November 8, 9, and 10. Mrs. Wynford L. Harries and Mrs. Charles B. Smith are co-chairmen.

Gifts ranging from Australian boomerangs to Grecian charm bracelets will be offered for sale at the booths. There will be children's games, pony rides and movies on Saturday. A community tea for foreign students will be held on Sunday. All proceeds will go to the YWCA World Fellowship Fund.

Committee chairmen are: Mrs. Oscar Sussman, booths; Mrs. John Reid, purchasing; Mrs. Eugene M. Hinkle, exhibits; Mrs. Kenneth D. McLared, sponsors; Mrs. Charles E. Lambert, Sunday tea; Mrs. Mary Riker, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Pohlmann, decorations; Mrs. Richard Roberts, children's program, and Mrs. Ned A. Whalley, publicity.

Those interested in working on the festival should contact Mrs. Howard B. Waxwood Jr. at the YWCA office.

DEN MOTHERS WANTED

By Cub Pack 43. The new cubmaster of Pack 43, Robert W. Houston, welcomed 40 boys at the first meeting of the year, held in the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Houston, professor of chemical engineering at Columbia University and laboratory director of the Industrial Reactor Laboratories, Plainsboro, sounded the call for more den mothers. "We have more boys wanting to be Cubs than we have den mothers for them. Boys whose mothers are willing to handle a den are most welcome."

TEACHERS TO SPEAK

At Princeton High Meeting. The Princeton High School PTA will hold a back-to-school night Wednesday, October 23 at 8 p.m.

There will be brief addresses by Mrs. Frank Vomacka, PTA president, and Kenneth E. Michael, school principal. Then parents will meet their children's teachers at classroom talks.

The school's entire staff will be present, including the guidance department, which will be stationed in the cafeteria. Refreshments will be served by members of home economics classes.

Parents may utilize the free time on their schedule cards to examine the school facilities, such as the language and science laboratories and the gymnasium. Several areas of the school have been remodeled, including the girls' locker room.

Mrs. E.S. Firth Jr. is in charge of the program. Parents will have the opportunity at the meeting to sign up for membership in the PTA.

FOX AND GO: Ralph H. Fox sits at the lined-off board on which the ancient Japanese game of GO is played. Black and white stones are placed on the board as the game progresses in an attempt to capture the opponent's pieces by fencing off territory. In the bookshelves are volumes, in Japanese, which explore various GO strategies. Dr. Fox is in Japan representing the United States in an international GO tournament.

PEOPLE In The News

IN TOKYO TOURNAMENT
Fox to Play "Go." Princeton University's mathematics and GO expert, Ralph H. Fox is in Japan, where he will pursue both his specialties, giving a series of lectures at several Japanese universities, and representing the United States in an eight-nation GO tournament.

GO is widely played in the Far East and is gaining in popularity in this country. It is a board game like chess or checkers but, unlike these games, starts with a virtually empty board and ends as a rule, with a board filled with the black and white GO stones.

Dr. Fox is an officer of the American GO association, and has qualified for Shodan (first degree), Nidan (second degree), and Sandan (third degree), conferred by the International GO organization in Tokyo.

The universities of Tokyo, Osaka, Nagoya, Kyoto and Fukuoka have invited Dr. Fox to lecture while he is in Japan. He will speak on his special field of interest, which is knot theory.

SPORTS In Princeton

TIGERS ARE IMPRESSIVE

As Ivy Picture Changes. The first third of the 1963 football season is over, and the complexion of the Ivy race in actuality is somewhat different from the form that had been pictured prior to the opening gun. As Princeton moves toward its final non-league foe on the schedule, a look at the picture in each of the eight camps is interesting.

Saturday's game in Palmer Stadium with Colgate has one characteristic unmatched by any other in the east: it is the only meeting of two major teams still undefeated. Kickoff time is 2 p.m., with a crowd of around 20,000 expected.

Of the eight Ivy League members, two have done virtually what was expected of them in their first three games; three have prospects somewhat brighter than had been anticipated; and three more are finding the going quite bleak in contrast to the optimism expressed in mid-September. In more detail:

• Dartmouth and Harvard remain unbeaten in their first three games, will both improve as the season progresses and continue to play the role of co-favorites east for them in pre-season estimates. The Indians show through the close calls they have had against Bucknell and Brown that they have neither the great defense nor dazzling attack that McKinnon and King sparked in 1962, but there is both marked ability and extreme depth at Hanover and the Green remains the team to beat.

Harvard, given the best chance of doing so, is uncovering some good sophomore strength to blend with its veterans. An impressive line and several topflight ball carriers will keep the Crimson in the title battle until its final game of the season.

• Princeton, Brown and Yale constitute the trio for which the outlook is brighter in varying degrees than it was when the season began. Of the Tigers, more in detail below.

Brown's good aerial game (even with its veteran quarterback, Jim Dunda, benched by injury) should be enough to move the Bruins out of their habitual cellar slot and upwards in second division. Yale achieved a major upset (called in advance by Dick Colman) when it defeated Columbia handily.

"I know the personnel at New Haven is good, I respect the new coaching staff and I figured Columbia would be over-confident after having whipped Brown before Brown beat Yale," Colman said Saturday afternoon. Having lost once in Ivy competition, and with Harvard, Dartmouth and Princeton all to be played, the Elis are not about to make a run for the title but they appear to be considerably tougher November opposition than had seemed likely.

• Columbia, Cornell and Penn are the trio tasting disappointment in large doses as the early firing ends. The first two were apparently over-rated on a basis of their star quarterbacks, Archie Roberts and Gary Wood; Penn's hopes for a brighter future now seem traceable only to the perennial optimism expressed by John Stigman without the personnel to make it slick.

All three of these teams will win here and there as the season progresses, with Columbia, off a good line in front of Roberts, the best to salvage a satisfactory season. If the Quakers lose to Brown at Providence Saturday, however, Penn will become an odds-on bet to finish last.

Tigers Now a Title Threat. From a team that had been given about an even chance of cracking first division, and regarded as well below the potential of Dartmouth and Harvard and possibly Columbia and Cornell, Princeton has developed into a solid long-shot bet for Ivy honors. It is still a long-shot, because it has not beaten either Harvard or Dartmouth in the past two years, and these two will again play extremely good November football.

Princeton is, nonetheless, displaying a number of qualities that have not been seen

Ivy League Forecast

Princeton over Colgate. Tigers' depth the difference. Harvard over Columbia. Lions have no ball carriers.

Brown over Penn. Bruins' offense stronger.

Dartmouth over Holy Cross. Indians' backfield better.

Yale over Cornell. Red lacks defense again.

in Palmer Stadium more than once or twice in the past decade. While Penn is patently a "have-not" aggregation, the Tigers' 34-0 victory Saturday was productive of some extremely good football on their part — solid stuff that it is logical to expect can be produced consistently throughout the fall.

Particularly worth emphasis is the fact that four of the five Princeton touchdowns were hung on the scoreboard because of four topflight defensive plays that made them possible. It is this sort of ability to create scoring opportunities when they actually do not have the ball — and then to cash in on them — that makes the Tigers far better than had seemed likely a month ago.

For example: In the first quarter, guard Ron Bonomo neatly speared a Penn ball carrier trying to make a yard on fourth down and Princeton promptly rolled 45 yards in three plays. Cosmo Iacavazzi wedging over from a yard out.

Less than four minutes later, Iacavazzi's fine defensive play was highlighted by a leaping interception of a Penn pass, which he ran back eight yards to Quaker 26. The Tigers went the remaining distance in five plays, Don McKay slicing into right tackle for the final three yards.

The second half was less than three minutes gone when another defensive play broke the game open. Big Ernie Pas-carella's perfect block and recovery of a Penn punt set up Iacavazzi's 15 - yard burst through the middle for Princeton's fourth TD.

The last touchdown was set up by another tackle that smeared another Penn attempt to run on fourth down out of punt formation. This one was contributed by end Jack Singer, who ranks fourth on the depth chart — a statistic that shows how deep this Princeton team is in some positions. Mc-Kay went over for this TD from four yards out after 61 yards had been erased in just nine plays.

Passing Game Born. The only major weakness shown by Princeton in its first two games failed to mar the victory over Penn when Tiger passing clicked for the first time this year. While the outcome hung in the balance, McKay and Hugh MacMillan connected on four of their first five attempts for 140 yards, thus serving warning to scouts camped high in the press box that a tight defense to stop the Tigers' running game can prove costly.

Once again, it was the eye-filling Princeton line play that told the story. Where McKay and MacMillan virtually had time to send their receivers telegrams instead of footballs, Penn's John Owens was a mighty harassed tailback all afternoon. He had completed 12 of 20 for 104 yards against Dartmouth, but connected on only two of ten for 16 yards against the ever-eager Tigers.

Non-Ivy Foe a Problem. Colgate has beaten Princeton for the last two years (15-0 and 16-15), not because it has markedly been a better team but

WE Congratulate

DON MCKAY

Princeton Tailback

When the football season began, no one was sure which of three players would be Princeton's starting tailback. After three games, junior Don McKay has the job nailed down securely.

Whatever doubt may have remained after his satisfactory performances against Rutgers and Columbia was completely erased in the opening period against Pennsylvania. In the first nine minutes of action, he completed a 44-yard pass that set up the first Tiger touchdown and shot through right tackle for another.

His handling and faking in the new belly series instituted by Princeton has added deception to the ground game, which already ranks as the Ivy League's best and is a solid bet to remain that way throughout the season.
In the third quarter, a good fake to wingback Jim Roc-kenbach pulled Penn defenders to the right, allowing McKay to race through a big gap into the end zone for another touchdown.

Before the half ended Saturday, McKay had paced rejuvenation of the Princeton passing game. His two-for-three, good for 72 yards, raised defensive smoke signals for future Tiger opponents and gave him a highly respectable .615 completion average for the young season.

Ranking tailback in his freshman year, the 20-year old junior played almost exclusively on defense last season, serving as an invaluable "wild card" for the three tailbacks who ranked ahead of him. Of that trio, one has graduated and he has now moved ahead of the other pair into the starting role.

With Cosmo Iacavazzi, the devastating fullback, McKay forms the most dangerous inside-outside combination the Tigers have featured in the better part of a decade.
Best of all, from the Princeton point of view, they'll be doing business in Palmer Stadium both this year and next.

because it has cared more about winning. The one-point defeat last season served to start a long downside by the Tigers, who finished with only two victories in their last six games.

This year, the Red Raiders
from New York's Chenango Valley are better than they were a year ago. A big, bruising team, they edged Cornell, 21-17, in their opener, fell back to a 6-6 tie with Boston University and then ran over Rutgers, 28 to 8.

Last fall, Gerry Barudin's deceptive ball handling as a sophomore quarterback raised hob with Princeton's defenses on Colgate's belly series and its options on rollout pitchouts.
This year, Barudin is back, as are most of his teammates and a good sophomore crop.

Bill Guedel, Tiger captain, is being credited with a vital factor in any team's progress:
ability to instill an eagerness to win that spills over onto the playing field every Saturday—not just for peak occasions.

If Princeton measures up to this one, the odds will favor the Tigers going into the Harvard game on November 9 still unbeaten. It defies imagination to estimate what the odds against such a development would have been three short weeks ago.

THE BIG ONE IS HERE

PHS vs. Trenton High. "Every time you: hit a dummy, run a sprint, throw a block,
make a tackle, practice a move, make a play go with all your effort — even sweat a drop — Princeton is that much closer to TROUNCING TRENTON HIGH SCHOOL."

Since the first day of practice, this exhortation has been on prominent display in the Princeton High School football dressing room. It is not surprising. For Princeton, Trenton represents THE game of the season, the one it points to all season long.

"It's never been hard to get up for the Trenton game," said PHS coach Dick Wood.
"Our problem in the past has been to stay up for the rest of the season once it's over. I think we'll be ready for Trenton — emotionally," Wood continued. "But whether we can improve our blocking and defense sufficiently is another question. We're going to be working on it."

The intense rivalry between the two schools is a long one.
A few years back, under the leadership of Jack Hawkins, PHS was getting the better of it. More recently, Trenton has found things much to its liking.

WHY COULDN'T THIS HAVE HAPPENED MORE OFTEN: Princeton High School quarterback Jim Beachell grabs a short pass from Paul Walstad in the Little Tigers' contest with Hunterdon Central. PHS wasn't going any place, however, as it gained only two first downs in the entire game. Hunterdon won 12-0. (Staff Photo)

Sports In Princeton

Perhaps the bitterest experience for the Little Tigers in the series occurred just 12 months ago. Then a decidedly underdog PHS eleven had held Trenton to a scoreless deadlock only to see the Tornadoes grab the game on a field goal in the last three seconds of play.

This year, both teams are in need of a little balm to help them forget the previous week. Not unexpectedly, Trenton was beaten, 27-7, by a strong Thomas Jefferson squad. Princeton, however, met unexpected resistance in its encounter with Hunterdon Central which stopped the Little Tigers cold, 12-0. It was the losers' second defeat in three games.

With the Trenton game, PHS has reached what amounts to a crossroads for the 1963 campaign. Another defeat would leave the Blue and White with a 1-3 record at the halfway mark. Still ahead lie difficult tests with Somerville, Ewing and Cherry Hill. Would a defeat by Trenton dull the spirit of the Little Tigers to the point that they would write off the present season?

Clearly, it is a question Dick Wood hopes he doesn't have to face. A victory over Trenton, on the other hand, may be just the spark the team needs to carry it on to a winning season. If the Little Tigers are to avoid matching last year's poor performance, the time to start winning is at hand.

Hunterdon Is Tough. To put it bluntly, PHS had a rugged time Saturday with the Red Devils of Hunterdon Central. It was evident to any onlooker that Hunterdon had come to Princeton to play football. The visitors stunned PHS with a workmanlike, no-nonsense, hard-nosed style of play. When the gun sounded, there was no question as to who was the better team.

Despite their finality, statistics can often be misleading. But Saturday's paint a true picture: Hunterdon, 294 yards total offense, 14 first downs, seven in each half. PHS, 52 yards total offense, two first downs, one in each half. The deepest Princeton penetrated was to the Hunterdon 23 in the final period, but it lost the ball via an interception on the next play.

The visitors scored early in the first quarter. When a strong wind neutralized Jimmy Case's punt, Hunterdon took over on its own 25. Seven plays later the Red Devils scored. In a virtual rerun of the same series of events, Hunterdon combined a wind-blown short punt and a short drive for its second tally in the third quarter. True, PHS was severely handicapped by injuries. Both starting ends, Jim Boynton and Richard Daniels were out with minor injuries. A cracked rib sidelined starting fullback Bill Aiken. Sam Stewart, a superb tackle, has yet to recover from an elbow injury. Taped from his hip to his shoe, Jeff Lowe was only half a guard.

"Injuries didn't help us any," Wood commented after the game, "but they were no excuse, either. We should have played a better game. We were outplayed all the way through."

HUN SEEKS FIRST WIN Against Solebury. Although the season is only three weeks old, Hun School's football team has faced the reality that it isn't going to win any laurels this year in the Penn-Jersey League. Saturday, the Red and Black suffered its second consecutive League defeat, dropping a 20-8 decision to Germantown Friends.

Hun will travel to Solebury Saturday for a fourth attempt to capture that elusive first one. Word from Hun coach Hawley Waterman and the Hun camp is that the team is finally going to nail it down. But it won't be easy.

A relatively weak sister in League competition in past years, Solebury asserted itself last week with a convincing 19-7 triumph over Morrestown. Should Hun lose again, it will be a long season indeed for the Johnny Huns as even tougher opponents lie ahead.

Against Germantown, Hun had three strikes against itself before the opening kickoff. Three-fourths of its starting backfield — halfback Chuck Sellon and Greg Ganung and fullback Eric Landis — did not even dress for the game because of injuries.

Fumbles Are Costly. On the field, Hun's fate was sealed early when it twice fumbled the ball away. Both led to Quaker scores. It lost the ball on its own 36 in the first period. Then, after Germantown had scored, it fumbled the return kickoff on its own 40.

Aided by two 15-yard penalties, Hun tallied its only TD in the second period. The pay-off play was a 10-yard pass from Mark Savidge to Scott Page. Savidge then passed to Jim Jaeger for the two-point conversion.

PEDDIE IS NEXT
For Lawrenceville Eleven. Lawrenceville will be at home Saturday to face its next prep school opponent, Peddie, after regaining the winning touch last week.

The Larries managed the only score of the game against Andover in Massachusetts Saturday to win 8-0. The week before, the Red and Black had its nine-game winning streak ended and for nearly three quarters last week it looked as if it would have difficulty beginning a new one.

But with 2:30 remaining in the third period, Captain Will Dickey, the Larry scoring leader, put the Red and Black ahead by plunging over from the one-yard line on fourth down. Clint Frank rushed for the conversion.

A battle of defenses all the way, the game was highlighted by two last-period stands by Lawrenceville. Andover drove to the 24 only to miss a field goal on a fourth and three early in the period, and later the Larries held their opponents after Andover moved to the 30-yard line.

In the first period, Andover demonstrated its defensive strength forcing the visitors to try a field goal on fourth down from the 16. The attempt was inches short.

WINNING IS HIS HABIT: Bud Cook took the finals in the men's championship at Springdale Golf Club on Saturday, beating Bob Shaw, 9 and 7.

SIXTH WIN FOR COOK
In Springdale Championship. Bud Cook won the annual men's championship at Springdale Golf Club on Sunday by beating Bob Shaw, 9 and 7. Cook, who also won the tournament in 1947, 1949, 1956, 1957 and 1962, thus recorded his sixth victory in Springdale's championship.

On Sunday, he played almost perfect golf on his way to the decisive triumph. During the morning round he carded a 72 on the par-71 layout.

In the finals of the second flight, Maury Mather will play John Becker. Tom Dignan won the third flight by beating Mac Morris, 6 and 4, and Ollie Houghton will meet Bill Wallace in the finals of the fourth flight. No further matches were played during the weekend in either the fifth or sixth flight.

METCALF WINS REGATTA
Takes Jefferson Memorial. Ed Metcalf won the first annual Walt Jefferson Memorial Penguin Regatta staged by the Carnegie Sailing Club on Sunday. The event honored Walter B. Jefferson Jr., Princeton Water Co. treasurer for many years and a Penguin sailor.

Metcalf and his crew, Peter Hirsch, earned 32.8 handicap points, edging Harry Cooke with 31.2 and Phil Holt with 26.6. Others entered included Art Keiser, John Reeder, Dexter Miller, Walt Foster, Bob Wilson and Bob Wyllie.

Holt was the victor in the 35-boat Touchdown Regatta held Saturday. With Jim Schureman as his crew, he was the first sailor from this area to win the event in its eight-year history, scoring 94.1 points out of a possible 107.1. The 35-knot gusts during the morning caused numerous upsets and equipment failures, and only 15 of the 35 entries finished all three races.

SPLIT FOR COUNTRY DAY
In Soccer, Football Openers. The Princeton Country Day football team was defeated in its opening game by the Delbarton freshmen, 13-6, but the school's soccer squad beat the Witherspoon School, 2-0, to begin the season on a winning note.

Princeton had a half-time lead in the football contest, but couldn't hold off Delbarton in the second half. The visitors scored a touchdown in each of the last two periods.

Co-captain Jeffrey Griggs was the star of the soccer game, scoring in the second and third periods. Goalie Bruce Johnson excelled on defense, stopping a Witherspoon penalty kick.

BOWLING NOTES
Lifetime High for Olsen. Otto Olsen set a personal record last week with a 244 game in Nassau League play. Mike Koplinier trailed Olsen in the single game category but rolled a 615 series for the high set.

Nassau Delicatessen retained possession of the league lead by a scant two points over the Elks. Other 200 plus games: Ron Faass, 207; Pete Miller, 205; Bob Sculerati, 201 and 204; Ed Dayton, 204; Bill Dumble, 201; and Ray Durling, 200.

Colonial Restaurant picked up three points in the Three-Man Classic League and moved into first place, a point ahead of Johnson Electric and two in front of Turney Motors. Vic Wyszynski swept scoring honors with a 232-202-198-632 series.

NEW JERSEY

...is headquarters for a unique cargo shipping operation

At Port Newark and Elizabeth can be found thousands of truck trailers that "take to sea". These 35-foot "crates" can be detached from the trailer chassis within seconds and immediately become shipboard containers when placed aboard a specially designed "trailership". These ships can carry as many as 476 containers and can load 20,000,000 pounds of cargo in a 12-hour period. When the port of destination is reached, these containers once again become trailers as they are placed on chassis and dispatched directly to the customer's doorstep.

Here is one more illustration of how and why New Jersey maintains its industrial and commercial leadership and why its importance as an export-import center will continue to grow.

In the "B" League, there was a four-way tie for the top position as Maul Electric could manage but one victory. Maul was tied with Ivy Inn, Jugtown Delicatessen and Kase Kleanders, each with 22 points.

Frank Delneso was high man with a 224 contest. Trailing him were Al Hibbard, 208; Jim Kahny, 204; Bill Murphy, 203; and Frank Saninno and Ben DeVido.

Applegate Floral Shop broke a tie in the Women's League and took sole possession of first place with a 34-6 record. Cranbury Bank and the Five Friends were in second place, each with 30 victories and 10 defeats.

Gladys Baszczowski bowled a 210-154-165-529 series for the high game and set. ### Tigers Top Statistics

Current Ivy League football statistics show that Princeton is first in both team offense and defense by sizeable margins, thus substantiating its hold on first place in the actual standings.

Averaging 303.5 yards in their two games to date, the Tigers lead runner-up Harvard (276) and third-place Dartmouth (249). On defense, where they are well up in the first ten nationally, they have allowed an average of 16.3 yards. Dartmouth is second with 201.5, with Brown a surprising third at 229.7.

The Tigers also have their one-two punch, Don McKay and Cosmo Iacavazzi, first and second in individual rushing with 141 and 132 yards, respectively. They are also tied for second in scoring with 18 points apiece, behind Columbia's Archie Roberts. The latter likewise leads in total offense and forward passing.

SCHEDULE EXPANDED

By Mercer Bookmobile. The bookmobile of the Mercer County Library will expand its schedule beginning Tuesday. The additional service will include a second day each week in West Windsor Township.

Six new stops have been added and will be visited each Tuesday. The bookmobile also makes six stops each Friday. Those who miss the traveling library may return books by placing them in a deposit box outside Dutch Neck Town Hall.

The complete schedule: Tuesday—Dana Street Parking area, Princeton Windsor Apartments, 10:30-11; Manor Avenue and Fisher Place, Penns Neck, 11:15-11:30; Windsor Drive and Harrison Lane, Windsor Park, 11:40-12; Cubberly and Old Trenton Roads, 1:15-1:45, and Oak Lane and Village Road East, 2-2:15, both in Edinburg; and University Way and Jeffrey Lane, Colonial Park Estates, 2:30-3.

Friday — Glenview Drive, Glen Acres, 10:30-10:45; Wilder and Varsity Roads, Penns Neck, 10:50-11:20; Alexander Road Post Office, Princeton Junction, 11:30-12; Millstone and Cranbury Roads, 1-1:30, and Mill Road and Piedmont Drive, 1:45-2:15, both in Grovers Mill; and Canoe Brook Drive and Princeton Place, Colonial Park Estates, 2:30-3.

CHAIRMAN APPOINTED

For Bryn Mawr Drive, Mrs. Raymond H. Carter has been appointed general appeal chairman of the area drive supporting the Bryn Mawr College $10 million fund-raising project. The appointment was announced by Mrs. E. Baldwin Smith, chairman of the area campaign.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Douglas Delaney, foundations and special gifts; Mrs. Oakes Ames, Mrs. Alan W. Carrick, Mrs. Ernest A. Lynton, Mrs. John R. Sheehan, Mrs. Michael Sherman, Mrs. Albridge C. Smith III and Mrs. Lyman Spitzer Jr. Committee members will attend an orientation program at Bryn Mawr Wednesday.

TO DISCUSS PLAYS

In Library Program. The Princeton Public Library will again sponsor a discussion program of the fall series drama at McCarter Theatre.

The first discussion will be on "Hedda Gabler" and will be led by Arthur Lithgow on Thursday, October 17. Two weeks later, Monroe Wade will head the seminar on "Long Day's Journey Into Night." "She Stoops to Conquer" will be the subject matter on Thursday, November 14, and "Playboy of the Western World" will be discussed by Henry S. Beechhold, a specialist in Irish literature at Trenton State College, on Tuesday, November 26.

TO CONSIDER MAP

For Montgomery Roads. The Montgomery Township Planning Board will consider the adoption of an official map at a meeting Monday, October 28. The proposed map would indicate approximate alignments for future extensions of existing roads.

Such extensions would eventually provide improved traffic flow through the township. Roads which would be affected are Green Avenue, Willow, Skillman, Opossum, Province Line and Grand View Roads and sections of County Route 13.

What "Price" Should Princeton Township Put On Recreation?

A few years ago, an enterprising writer took hold of a classic parent-child dialogue and used it as the title of a best-seller called: Where Did You Go — Out, What Did You Do — Nothing. When that self-same dialogue occurs in a Princeton household, the answers are not evasive ones — children really mean it. They have been just "out," and they probably have been doing just about "nothing." There is nothing to do.

Twenty years ago, the first study group looked into Princeton's recreational needs. In all those years since, the question of recreation has been re-studied several times over. Just last June a joint Borough-Township Recreation Commission finished another study. The results were presented in a public meeting at the High School. They recommended a thoroughly integrated recreational park that would provide athletic fields, swimming pools, picnic areas, and ample space for walkers and nature-lovers. There was also provision for future expansion, to permit tennis courts, a recreation building and space for the additions that a growing community might need. This Recreation Commission did its job well. They had the site picked out, an engineering sketch, the total cost, and even the cost per family. The overflow crowd in Princeton High School that night last June had only one question to ask — "How do we get this built?"

What has happened to that Recreation Plan? The Township Committee has passed it off to another committee to be "studied." They want to see whether or not there is really a need and whether or not we can afford it. Such caution might seem to be very prudent, but we have had twenty years of prudence and still no park.

Why is there no action? The Princeton Township Committee has a long tradition of slowness and procrastination. It is a Committee that has been comfortably in the control of one political party for almost all of the years Princeton Township has existed. One party control of any governing body is unhealthy. The very presence of the minority party at Committee meetings has to be a stimulus and a prod to action. An aggressive and knowledgeable minority is bound to create a more alert Township Committee.

How can you arouse your Committee to act? You can use your vote this November to help elect the Democratic candidates, John Yost, William Sloane, and Marlene Herzberg. These candidates have been active in Township affairs for a decade — working for better recreational facilities, for better school programs, for fair and honest civil rights activities, for open-space planning. They can be your voice for action — on recreation as well as other pressing matters of the day. The challenge of a minority party on the Committee could well mean that soon Princeton residents will have someplace to go other than "out," and that they will have something to do other than "nothing."

Have your vote mean something. Let it say you want Princeton Township government to take the lead in resolving its problems, and that you are choosing John Yost, William Sloane, and Marlene Herzberg to be your voice for action.

Ordered and paid for by Princeton Township Democratic Forum

News Of The CHURCHES

LAYMEN'S SUNDAY SET
In Area Churches. The pulpits in a number of Presbyterian churches will be taken over by lay leaders this Sunday. Leslie L. Vivian will discuss "The Outstretched Hand" at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services in First Presbyterian Church. Raymond Conover and David Rinker will give the sermon at the 9:45 and 11 services in Dulch Neck Presbyterian Church. Other lay members will take part.

At Kingston Presbyterian, members of the Men's Group will conduct the service. Participants include Carl Benninghoff, William Ziegler, Henry Viltum, William Voorhees Jr., Frank Miller and Ray Gibson. Elders Halsey Allen and Raymond Riss will give the sermon "Your Neighbor As Yourself."

Dr. Carter R. Smith and Everett Houser will speak at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services in Community Church, Kendall Park. Their topic is "The Layman's Responsibility in the Church." Participants include William James, Bruce Milne, Lloyd Welch, Leo Kruger, Miss Vivian Van Senter, Pierce Martin, Bernard Fisher, Thomas Augenti, Mrs. Richard Metcalf and Mrs. George Blackburn.

METHODIST CRUSADE SET
Goal is $125,000. B. Woodhull Davis is chairman of the financial "crusade" members of Princeton Methodist Church will hold net week.

The target is $125,000 to clear all debts on the church and parsonage, all obligations to the conference growth program and to provide capital improvements to the church as well as current operating costs. The funds are to support the work of the church for a two-year period.

Assisting Mr. Davis are: Chester A. McKinney, vice-chairman; Mrs. J. Guy Woodward, secretary; E. Reeves Black, Raymond Welshon, Donald Rugg and Paul Roediger, canvass; Arthur L. Benson, Eugene O. Keizer and Edgar VanZandt, advance gifts; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore, publicity; Mrs. T. Roba Webb, Mrs. Edward McCall and Mrs. W.B. Davis, food and fellowship.

Dr. E. Bruce Wilson, of the department of finance and field service within the Division of National Missions of the Methodist Church, will assist the committee.

A victory service of worship and thanksgiving will be held at 9 p.m. on Monday, October 28, following completion of the campaign.

SCIENCE AND CHRISTIAN UNITY: Church leaders in Princeton, London and Rome discussed "The Christian Revolution" on Tuesday by Telesat II in the first TV broadcast to be seen simultaneously on both sides of the Atlantic. Above, at Princeton Seminary, Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, Lutheran head and chairman of the World Council of Churches' central committee, converses with the Rev. Dr. Hans Kung, West German theologian, broadcasting from Rome. Other participants in the CBS-sponsored "Town Meeting of the World" were Laurian Cardinal Rugambwa of Tanganyika, in Rome, and Bishop Leslie Newbigin, of the World Council of Churches. The program was scheduled for re-broadcast at 7:30 p.m. this Wednesday. (Staff Photo)

hibit of ten religious paintings by children from all corners of the world is on display in the library at First Presbyterian Church. The exhibit closes October 30.

The project grew out of dissatisfaction felt by leaders of the World Council of Christian Education with "dull and unimaginative" Bible illustrations supplied to mission schools.

Some delightfully fresh and imaginative interpretations of the Creation by children ranging in age from 6 to 13 years have resulted. The paintings are part of a larger exhibit held last December at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York City.

TO HEAR BISHOP

At F. O. R. Meeting. The Right Rev. John W. Saidig, Anglican bishop of Nagpur, India, will address the Fellowship of Reconciliation at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday at the First Presbyterian Church. His topic will be "The Ministry of Reconciliation."

Bishop Saidig is chairman of the commission on World Mission and evangelism of the World Council of Churches. Ordained in 1950, he is a former president of the National Missionary Society of India and has served in the youth department of the World Council of Churches.

FETE PLANNED

At Rosedale Chapel. The Autumn Bake Sale and Luncheon at Rosedale Chapel, Carter Road, will be held from 10 until 4 this Friday.

Planned by the Ladies Auxiliary, the affair features the famous "Claxton" fruitcake.

cafeteria-style luncheon, white elephant booths, plants, flowers, Christmas cards and cor-sages.

Obituaries

Mrs. Bertha G. Justice, 75, of 71 Palmer Square, died October 15 in Princeton Hospital. Mrs. Justice was a clerk for the Clayton Dry Goods and Notions Store for 40 years.

Surviving are two sons, Edwin D. of Princeton and Charles H. of Wayne, Pa.; a brother, Charles Anderson of Burlington, and a grandson.

The funeral will be held at 11 a.m. Friday in the Niles Chapel of First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. John Patterson officiating. Interment will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Calling hours are from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the Mather Funeral Home, 40 Vanderventer Street.

Mrs. Margaret B. Krieger, 61, of 45 Louis Street, New Brunswick, died October 10 in St. Peter's Hospital, New Brunswick. She was the wife of Francis P. Krieger.

Born in Brooklyn, Mrs. Krieger lived in Princeton for many years before moving to New Brunswick about 19 years ago.

Also surviving are two daughters, Mrs. William Cathcart of New Brunswick and Mrs. Frank Schweninger of Bloomfield; two brothers, James Byrne of Brooklyn and Joseph Byrne of Neptune; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Denny, Mrs. Helen Laube and Mrs. Katherine Perine, all of Brooklyn, and six grandchildren.

Requiem mass was held in St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church. Interment was in St. Paul's Cemetery.

MEMORIAL

The plaque unveiling for the late Harry Ballot will take place at 1 p.m. on Sunday, October 27, at the Fountain Lawn Memorial Park, Eggerts Crossing Road.

Members of the Princeton Jewish Center and friends are invited by his widow, Mrs. Cecilia W. Ballot, to attend.

Are You Planning for Your Children's Education?

Four years at a good college costs $10,000 to $15,000. It is sensible to start planning while your children are young. A small amount saved each year now in a tax-sheltered Insured College Trust Fund can guarantee funds for your children even if their father's income is lost through death or disability — and your savings receive annual tax-free interest and tax-free dividends.

For free literature send coupon or phone WA 1-7084.

SLEEK, SOPHISTICATED, AND SO UP TO DATE

INCOMPARABLE MODERN HOUSE designed by an imaginative and vigorous young architect for himself. Secluded on an acre and a half in popular Elm Ridge Park (just west of town), it has everything a three-bedroom house can hold. Enormous living-dining areas with fireplace, walnut paneling, and walls of glass; fully equipped kitchen; two fabulous baths; swimming pool; and drastically reduced price tag it can be yours tomorrow for

FINE FOR A STARTER. This 9 year old, 7 room house was just that for its present owners until a big house became needed. From a condition point of view, it's hard to believe the house has been inhabited; but at the same time tasteful touches (such as cherry paneled rec. rm.) give it a happily lived-in air. Outside appeal is there, too, in the really delightful landscaping. Pleasant area, convenient also. $28,500

FOR SALE . . . A WAY OF LIFE. If buying a new house means that you must count bedrooms and baths — well, perhaps, this place is not for you. Besides, it would be a shame to turn a bunch of kids loose in these gardens . . . they're too perfect and too well cared for. But if, now that you have achieved maturity, you yearn for a more civilized way of life in a few large beautiful rooms where your splendid antiques can show off as they absolutely should, this unique home, converted from an old stone stable, is for you. The living room is 18 x 28 and its vast stone fireplace will make Winter more than tolerable. Bedroom and bath were designed for you to live in luxury. The study (which can be another bedroom, or could be converted into 2 bedrooms and bath) has shelves for a lifetime's collection of books. On 1½ acres in a secluded grouping of half a dozen lovely homes. $47,000

Fine homes are but half the story at Heathcote. Add rich, rolling land. And now, Heathcote offers you planned recreation... in a specially developed 26 acre country park!

You'll walk to tennis, baseball, shaded picnic arbors, every family sport. Stroll with your children through private paved walks. There's even a private playground, just for your youngsters, cloistered from hectic traffic or crowds.

Community planning makes big sense. And so do the big new homes at Heathcote. Up to 5 master-sized bedrooms... 2 or 3 color ceramic baths... your choice of RCA "Connoisseur" or "Magic Chef" Kitchens... and outside, the privacy of your own full 1/4 acre sculptured lot.

It all sounds so perfect, you'd expect Heathcote to be "way out." It isn't. The price is comfortable. The location: just 6 easy minutes from smart Princeton! Close to shops, supper clubs, concerts, golf — and of course, Princeton University.

Naturally, all improvements, including sidewalks, water and city sewers, are already in and paid for. Low, low taxes too. Imagine all this... just 45 minutes from downtown Newark, only 55 minutes from mid-Manhattan!

WE NOMINATE

The 25 long-working Princetonians, drawn from all parts of the 13-community Greater Princeton Area and representing what might be termed the 11 major divisions constituting the economic entity of Princeton, who have entered upon one of the most challenging and yet rewarding service enterprises of recent years, the 1964 United Fund-Red Cross Campaign. Directing a "task force" of more than 2,000 volunteer workers, these 25 (3 women and 22 men) are accepting the responsibilities of leadership in raising a record-breaking total of approximately $355,000, an understandable 13% jump from last year's target and well over five times the goal sought a quarter-century ago.

The framework for this fall's Drive, which is predicated upon the demonstrated 1964 needs of 27 United Agencies and the Red Cross of Princeton and reaches into the outlying areas of Hopewell, Pennington and Montgomery Township, was suggested nearly 10 months ago at the United Fund's Annual Meeting. The principal speaker was one of the country's foremost economists and an organizer in the 1940's of Princeton's first community-wide fundraising effort, James Douglas Brown, now veteran Dean of the University Faculty. His theme was "Who Are Our Neighbors?" and his remarks became the springboard for this year's thoughtfully conceived undertaking.

Under the over-all supervision of Fund President John M. Reeder, insurance executive, and Campaign Chairman, Warren W. Wagner, personnel manager for RCA's headline-making "Astro Labs," the battalions of volunteers have been carefully "oriented." In Dean Brown's words: "It is the job of a United Fund to help people gain the habit and the satisfaction of thoughtful giving. A canvasser for a well-known United Fund has to make no apologies. . . . He is helping others to mature and to gain that sense of social adjustment which comes with loving one's neighbor as oneself in a modern way — by participating thoughtfully in service to one's community."

As the Fund officers and division chairmen enthusiastically shift into high gear, it is manifest that these leaders are thoroughly representative of a mushrooming center largely concerned with education and research and yet drawing an immense share of its strength from the elements supporting the so-called core industry. One out of five (Chester Stroup, John J. McKenna, Edward D. Sullivan, James G. Allen and Carl R. Pope) is directly involved in education, while the coordination of the Research and Industrial Division rests with the Manager of Administration for the greater Princeton Laboratories and a key figure in the greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce, Arthur N. Curtis.

From the professions have been drawn the co-chairmen of the Special Gifts Division, architect G. Victor Davis and lawyer Hugh D. Wise Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Hood, a "husband-and-wife first" in the history of the Princeton United Fund, will handle the Princeton Neighborhood Division, with Mrs. W. Kedzie Teller and Mrs. Albert Ziegler holding forth as chairmen in Kingston and West Windsor, respectively. The other driving forces in the weeks ahead will be Bartlett Bailey, Henry W. Jeffers, Bernard Barenholtz, Joseph R. Fleming, R. L. Lehart, Donald S. Nelson, Bryan V. Moore, William Flemmer Jr., George R. Griffing, Alan Frank and Theodore Reed.

For understanding that the United Fund is doing a singularly effective job for Princeton; for seeking to add new dimensions to responsible community leadership for their own thoughtful participation in a venture of overriding significance; we nominate them as
